U.B.C. PLAYERS GIVE FINE PERFORMANCE IN SUMMERLAND HALL

SUMMERLAND, B.C., May 9.—The U.B.C. Players presented "The Playboy of the Western World," by M. Sygne, in the Ellison Hall on Wednesday evening, before a large audience.

There was a dual reaction to the play. Many of those who attended enjoyed it thoroughly as a true portrayal of a certain portion of Irish life, and others regretted the choice of play. All were agreed, however, that it was well directed and played. The group pictures, gestures, and action were so excellent at times that they were almost isolated, and broke the continuity slightly. The players were billeted while here, and were given a complimentary luncheon in the High School by some of the members of the home economics classes, and were entertained at supper at the Experimental Station.

EMPIRE DAY SPORTS PROGRAM AT FALKLAND WILL BE EXTENSIVE

Kildonan Pipe Band, Parade And Stampede Are Features

FALKLAND, B.C., May 10.—The Vernon Kildonan Pipe Band has promised to attend the Empire Day celebration here on May 24, and residents of the district are looking forward to hearing these capable musicians, of whom they have heard so much. The Band will lead the play on the grounds during program intermissions.

An added feature of the stampedede this year will be the wild cow milking contest. Homer Churchill, stampedede manager, is working hard to make this part of the celebration a bigger attraction than ever before. After a five months' layoff owing to the loss of equipment by fire last fall, the full crew of men is back to work at Tarry's mill. During the winter months new machinery was installed, and with this more up-to-date equipment, a greater daily output of lumber is expected this year.

MILLS BUSY
The mill owned and operated by J. D. Churchill has been busy for several weeks, and truckloads of lumber are being taken to Armstrong and Salmon Arm daily.

Pillar Lake is again open for fishing, and more improvements are being made to accommodate anglers this year. Cabins and a boat house are being built on the lakeshore, so that boats may be hired more easily, a much needed accommodation to this ever growing popular summer resort.

Members of the Anglican Guild met at the home of Mrs. George Forster on Wednesday afternoon. A vote of thanks was given by the president, Mrs. T. Curry, to the members who assisted so generously to make the recent sale of sewing and home-cooking so successful.

STEADY RAIN

After several weeks of very dry weather, a much needed rain fell steadily over the entire district, though the winter was extremely mild growth in gardens is backward compared to previous years.

Dancing to the music of the Rhythm Rangers' orchestra at Vernon was an enjoyable affair, which was held in the Community Hall on Saturday evening.

A SPECIAL MOTHERS' DAY SERVICE

was held in the United Church on Sunday evening, with the Rev. J. Rowland officiating.

INSPECT QUARRIES

Norman Jessiman, B.C. manager of the Gypsum, Lime & Alabaster Co. Ltd., Canada, and Alex Dryden, superintendent, made their regular inspection of the quarries on Monday. They were accompanied on the motor trip from the Coast by Mrs. Jessiman and Mrs. Dryden.

Friends of Miss May Lee will be pleased to hear that she is making a rapid recovery from a recent operation for appendicitis, which took place in the Vernon Jubilee Hospital last Monday.

Miss June Portman spent the week end at her home in Westwood. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson McKenzie were visitors to Kelowna last Sunday.

Miss Mossey, of Vernon, spent the week end with her sister, Miss E. Mossey.

Bob Cullings was a week end visitor at his home in Westwood. Results of the examinations held at the school last week, for the spring term, are as follows:

Grade I, Robert Matt; Grade II, Lorne Leaf; Grade III, Carl Taylor; Grade IV, Grace Bailey; Grade V, Kathleen Miller; Grade VI, Ella Clark; Grade VII, Robert Toner; Grade VIII, Clarence Henderson; Grade IX, Jack Hambrook; Grade X, Marion Smith.

The committee of the Falkland and District Community Association met in the hall on Monday evening. Final arrangements were made for the dance to be held on the following Saturday. Tom Smith, president, acted as chairman, and Ben Munsell gave the treasurer's report. Although progress has not been exceptionally high during the last few months, payments on the hall and equipment are being met regularly.

Space for this letter is only requested in the interest of what I conceive to be the welfare of amateur theatricals in the future.

GYMNASTIC DISPLAY AT ARMSTRONG WELL RECEIVED BY CROWD

ARMSTRONG, B.C., May 10.—About 400 spectators lined the galleries and sides of the Recreation Hall on Friday evening, May 8, when a Physical Education and Recreation Display was given by the Armstrong Centre aided by strong contingents from Kelowna and Vernon.

The program, which was carried out without a break, gave the spectators a fine display of gymnastics and also showed the splendid progress that has been made in the comparatively short time these classes have been carried on.

The Danish exercises given by the ladies under the leadership of J. Hassard and by the men under the leadership of J. Lyness were both carried out with clock-like precision. The Kelowna ladies dance number was a model of grace and the tap dance number by Armstrong ladies was also much admired. A group of Armstrong girls, who were led and trained by Mrs. R. Thomas, gave a really fine show of Indian Club swinging and received quite an ovation by the spectators. The various gymnastic numbers by the men, both visitors and locals, were all carried out in a manner that showed careful training by the leaders and hard practice by the performers.

PENTICTON TRIMS OROVILLE
PENTICTON, B.C., May 11.—Trimming the toughest pine in the U.S. sector of the league, Penticton's senior team went into a winning stride in the opening match of the schedule, Sunday, trimming the Oroville pine by a 7-4 margin. Five of Penticton's seven were awarded runs, brought about by the heavy battery work demonstrated by the team.

Manchoukuan Emperor's Brother Has A New Daughter

Japanese fighting their way with China along the northern front recently celebrated the birth of a baby princess to Prince Pu-Chieh, brother of the Emperor of Manchoukuo. There is more time for celebration among the northern Japanese armies than those to the south since their chief task is to guard against Soviet moves which might leave the baby's uncle throneless.

LETTERS from our READERS

Adjudicating the Adjudicator

Editor, The Vernon News, Sir:

Mr. Fairbairn in his opening remarks at the Dramatic Festival, told us that the sequel to all these competitions was inevitably the adjudication of the adjudicator. He very carefully explained that the most painstaking judgment was none the less merely an expression of opinion and involved the balancing of a great many values.

The sporting instinct that governs all contests of this kind bars any of the participants from questioning the final decisions of a well informed umpire. In most contests the umpire has nothing to do with the score; the winner being proclaimed by the figures on the board or a knock-out blow in the ring. The adjudicator at a musical or dramatic festival is also the scorer, but the set piece for competing vocalists and instrumentalists does give an opportunity for comparison which cannot be afforded to a dramatic contest where farce, fantasy, comedy and drama vie with each other in a clash of confounding moods, difficult for either an audience or an adjudicator to adjust themselves to. The question as to whether "A Midsummer Night's Dream" is a better play than "Othello," or whether Chaplin is a great actor as Irving makes it quite clear that such comparisons are obviously odious and the appeal that a play may have is altogether dependent on the mood of the onlooker.

I think all the players would agree with me that Mr. Fairbairn's adjudications of the plays themselves were on the whole most satisfactory and edifying. I would personally like to see an adjudicator confine his remarks to faults, as when praise is too lavishly bestowed there is considerable danger of running out of superlatives before the program is half through. Had the final awards conformed with those adjudications revealing the least faults, faults within the powers of the producer and performers to have corrected, there would be no occasion for this letter; but the verdict appeared to me and many others as entirely at variance with the summing up.

This is not a case of presumptuously setting up my own opinion against that of a far better qualified judge of performance; it is distinctly a case of adjudicating the adjudicator from the standpoint of his own adjudications.

Space for this letter is only requested in the interest of what I conceive to be the welfare of amateur theatricals in the future.

Don't Shoot Bald Eagles

Editor, The Vernon News, Sir:

Can you spare me space for a plea that no thoughtless marksmen will use the Bald Eagles that are now nesting near Vernon, for a target. Up to two or three years ago there was only one pair of these fine birds nesting in the vicinity, now we have three pairs on the north arm of Okanagan Lake alone.

While in some places the Bald Eagle may be a menace especially where abundant, here in the Interior they prey mostly on coarse fish in the summer, especially carp, being unable to capture active fish. In the winter their chief food is coots or mud-hens which we can easily spare.

Ospreys or Fish-hawks also should not be molested as they help to keep down our super-abundant carp, suckers and squaw fish.

There are six pairs of Ospreys nesting on the Indian Reservation on the north arm.

Yours truly,
ALLAN BROOKS.

LAVERINGTON ANGLERS TAKE 70 POUNDS OF FISH OPENING DAY

LAVERINGTON, B.C., May 7.—On Sunday of last week, the first day of the fishing season, a few followers of Frank Walton, set out to beat the old traditions and fish stories. Laverington's well known sportsman, Jack Hunkley, managed to land a splendid six and a half pound trout.

Mrs. Roy Kirk spent a few days last week at Kamloops and Vancouver, returning on Friday.

Andy Gentry has gone to Vancouver and expects to leave for California shortly.

Light rains fell on Tuesday night and were much needed in orchards and gardens.

Heaver Lake will be open for fishing on May 20, it is announced.

Creamery Statements

Editor, The Vernon News, Sir:

Your last issue carried a letter signed by L. Lowes, of Grindrod, in which he takes me to task for a remark I made at the annual meeting of the North Okanagan Creamery Association. Mr. Lowes in attempting to clarify my remark makes some criticism which makes a reply to his letter necessary and in order that there may be no misunderstanding as to what was said and meant, I hope you will be able to find room for my reply in this week's issue of your paper.

Mr. Lowes mentions two matters which are of importance to cream producers. These are first, the percentage consumed by our association in the merchandising of our product; second, the consolidated statement published by our Association for the perusal of its members and the public generally; and I will deal with these matters in the order mentioned.

If Mr. Lowes will look up his balance sheet he will see that the amount received from sales of butter totalled $244,307.11. The cost of this butter totalled $227,909.69. The latter figure is 94.9 percent of the former and represents the amount paid for materials that went into the making of our product in saleable condition. This includes butterfat, salt, parchment paper, boxes, etc., and when I remarked at the annual meeting that practically 93 cents out of every dollar received from the sale of butter went back to the producer I referred to the products necessary for the finished article and not only the producer of butterfat, but also the producer of butterfat. Although I realize I used the word producer I was talking of butter and not butterfat. In a recent book called "The Tyranny of Words" by Stuart Chase it is pointed out that much of the world's confusion and misunderstanding is being caused by a lack of communication between individuals due to their not knowing the precise matters under discussion and by not defining the referent or the matter to which the word refers. I admit my fault in this regard.

In regard to the difference between the price received for our product and the cost of our goods, 5.1 percent, which represents our operating costs, that is to say that the total cost of merchandising our product, managing, advertising, selling, collecting, clerical work, etc., was 5.1 percent out of every dollar value of butter made and I consider this to be a remarkable showing and as I said at the meeting, one that reflects favorably on all concerned. I feel sure Mr. Lowes will agree with me in this.

In regard to the second criticism (our consolidated statement), perhaps at first, before examining both sides of the matter, one might be inclined to agree with Mr. Lowes. But we are living in an age wherein the law of the jungle with its tooth and claw continues to persist and we have to think of those who are dependent on this industry for a living and afford them what protection we can, and I feel personally to parade the intimate details of our business before our competitors would not be acting in the best interests of our shareholders. But all this does not mean that we have any secrets or anything to hide from any shareholder. We have our annual meetings where criticisms and questions are welcomed. I sometimes think that if the shareholders generally would take more interest in their annual meetings and give voice to their opinions for or against they would realize that this is their business and not some one else's and exists primarily for their benefit by marketing and manifesting their primary product to the best possible advantage for all concerned but at any other time if any shareholder wishes any information about any of the details of the business there is at the creamery office in Vernon a detailed statement drawn up by the auditor wherein are set out minute items of cost and factors of operation and this can be perused by any member of the association and any such investigation will be welcomed by our staff who will place every assistance at the disposal of all entitled to such information.

As Mr. Lowes has pointed out, big business does not give the farmer much details to the public at large. Would he ask our little co-operative association to put on the skin of a lamb before going into the cage with the tiger?

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your valuable space.

Yours truly,
J. R. FREEZE,
Glenwood Farm, May 7, 1938.

Sees A Great Need For More People In Canada Today

Winfield Audience Hears Thoughtful Address By Capt. F. C. Brown

Winfield Speaker

WINFIELD, B.C., May 9.—"Canada's urgent need is for more people," said Capt. F. C. Brown, of Vancouver, president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, in speaking on "Some National Problems" before a Winfield audience at the Community Hall on Thursday last.

Capt. Brown, who recently returned from a trip across Canada, stated that the lack of population was keenly felt by the Maritimes, which, he said, had made little progress since he left there thirty years ago. The more populous central provinces, he said, had seized much of the business which had formerly gone to the provinces on the Atlantic seaboard.

A million more selected immigrants on the prairies would be at least a partial answer to the Okanagan's need for a domestic market, which, stated the speaker, was far superior to an overseas market that was constantly changing and often insecure.

"Canada is British," stated Capt. Brown, "and should be kept that way so that immigrants to Canada should be predominantly British." He continued by saying that those people who came to Canada from Holland and the Scandinavian countries were a fine type from whom there were few better. In the last few years, however, more people had come to Canada from central European countries than from the British Isles. To prove his point, he cited the situation in Saskatchewan, which he said had 500,000 people of Central European stock in its population of 900,000.

The right type of immigrant should be chosen and placed on farms throughout the Dominion, for he stated, "Agriculture forms the foundation for other industries." He mentioned the industrial cities of Ontario at this point, which he said arose as a result of Ontario's agricultural population.

In reply to the statement that there were already enough or too many people farming, Capt. Brown maintained that every new farmer placed on the land created employment in countless industries. The retailer, wholesaler, manufacturer, and the railroads were some businesses directly affected.

"OUT OF THE RED"
Touching briefly on the railway situation, Capt. Brown said that Canada's railway system was built for a population of 25,000,000 people and that it could not hope to "keep out of the red" with a population of 11,000,000.

He said that the Canadian National Railways should be made responsible only to Parliament rather than to the Cabinet which was at present the case.

"Canada," stated the speaker, "is over-governed. There are over 900 members of Parliament and provincial legislatures."

He saw no reason why British Columbia would be well represented at Victoria with 16 members rather than 48.

Dealing with the cost of government, Capt. Brown said that Canada is over-serviced. People today, he said, leaned far too heavily on governments. He thought, too, there should be a better balance among these services than at present existed. At the present time he said, a per capita grant of $17 was spent on public welfare and health and a per capita grant of $5 on education, while only 45 cents was spent on agriculture.

Capt. Brown thought Canada's trade with Britain should be increased at the expense of trade with the United States, which he said had 47 percent of Canada's trade at present.

"Today, Canada makes per capita

CAPT. F. C. BROWN

President of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, who was visitor to the Okanagan last week.

purchases of $36 from U.S.A., most of which were manufactured goods, while their purchases from us amounted to $2, most of which he said was for raw products which did not create employment to the same extent as did manufactured goods."

CRITICIZES GOVERNMENT
He lamented the laissez-faire attitude of Canada's government toward the unemployment problem. An ex-Serviceman himself, he said he would rather be without an arm or leg and be within receipt of a pension than be out of a job and with no hope of ever getting one.

"No country," he said, "ever went bankrupt from work. He felt there was much work urgently in need of being done. He cited the Monksman Pass Highway as a project well worth while."

The speaker was asked his opinion of the Alaskan Highway. He felt that Canada should proceed warily as he thought that a country of 130,000,000 people would dominate the policy of such a road. He thought it better advisable to spend the money on existing roads.

At the conclusion of the meeting refreshments were served by members of the Farmers' Institute, under whose auspices the meeting was held.

JUNIOR FARMERS ARE ADVISED ON METHODS OF POTATO CULTURE

H. S. McLeod Urges Formation Of Co-operative To Handle Output

ARMSTRONG, B.C., May 10.—There was only a small attendance of Junior club members with a few adults present at the meeting in the Municipal Hall, on Saturday afternoon, May 7, when H. S. McLeod, chief of the Dominion Certified Potato work in the province of B.C., gave a most interesting and instructive address on potato growing. The speaker was introduced to the meeting by M. S. Middleton, district horticulturist.

Mr. McLeod, in his introductory remarks, gave a review of what had been done since the work of certification had been started in 1914 in Eastern Canada, the work having been taken over by the Dominion government from the B.C. government in 1927. He dealt at considerable length with the various diseases, bacteria, fungus, virus and physiological, which attack the potato, describing the various types of disease and how they affected the potato.

One measure of control of disease is to use healthy seed and the object of certification is to improve the quality of the crop and so increase the yield per acre. Getting better quality and giving improved grading, would be a great help in marketing as quality tells in the marketing of the crop. By getting a higher yield per acre the grower would lower the cost of production. The speaker gave figures to show what had been accomplished in the way of increased yields per acre by the use of certified seed. Poor potatoes were finding their way into the seed stores and he pointed out that it was illegal to advertise or sell potatoes for seed unless they were certified.

All seed should be treated with corrosive sublimate as by this means any disease on the outside of the seed potato would be destroyed. But he gave the warning that great care should be taken in its use as it was very poisonous. Rotation of crops was another method of control which he emphasized. For certified seed growers the tuber unit method of planting, which he demonstrated, was recommended, showing how the seed pieces from one tuber were planted consecutively and by this means a check could be kept. If any disease appeared on a plant the other plants from the same tuber would be known and they could eliminate the contaminated potatoes.

The soil should be in good mellow condition to the depth of 8 inches and well aerated, and during the growing season given the best cultivation, and no weeds should be allowed to grow in the plot. In harvesting the crop care must be taken to avoid injury to the tubers and old fertilizer or salt sacks should not be used as they would cause damage to the tubers. If the potatoes were to be kept over clean and dry, well ventilated storage should be provided and kept at the proper temperature, 36 to 40 degrees.

Mr. McLeod suggested to the boys that they get some dealer to handle their crop and use the potatoes marketed co-operatively through a good channel. In closing, he said that the main object of club work was to produce better class seed and that even if they did not win any prizes by doing the work well they would be turning out a good product.

Mr. McLeod was accorded a hearty vote of thanks for his address.

SALMON ARM CHURCH VISITED BY B.P.O.E.

Special Mothers' Day Services Well Attended In Various Churches

SALMON ARM, B.C., May 10.—Large numbers attended the Mothers' Day services in the different churches on Sunday.

At the morning service in the United Church, the soloists were Miss Mary Sanderson, who sang "My Task." The choir gave the anthem, "Home Sweet Home" after which Rev. E. S. Fleming spoke briefly on "Our Mothers."

In the evening the Salmon Arm Elks attended the United Church service in a body. The service opened with "O Canada" after which the lodge chaplain, E. Sellinger, gave the invocation. During the service Exalted Ruler C. Shirley spoke a 2-7 words explaining the objects and principles of the order. Rev. Fleming in his address showed clearly how the cardinal principles of Elksdom were similar to those of Christianity itself.

Mr. and Mrs. Max E. Ladner and N. C. Dawson were week end visitors to Vancouver, returning home Monday.

Miss Mary Sanderson, of Mantoloking, is visiting her cousins, Mrs. H. S. and Mrs. G. A. Robertson.

Mrs. C. Akeroyd, of Enderby, is visiting at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Akeroyd.

Rev. E. S. Fleming and H. Parry left Monday morning to attend the United Church Conference in Vancouver.

Bob Morton returned home Monday after an absence of several months in the Bridge River district.

George Dunne has purchased the home formerly owned by Mr. Esbrook and with his family has taken possession.

The Salmon Arm Social and Dramatic Club held their final dance of the season on Wednesday, May 3, with about 80 members and 32 guests dancing to the music of the club orchestra.

PENTICTON PIONEER IS CALLED BY DEATH

PENTICTON, B.C., May 11.—A life of hard work and accomplishment closed Sunday morning when, at 5 o'clock, John Daniel MacDougall, pioneer of Penticton and the first Canadian transcontinental road was driving across the prairies. He was in Winnipeg before the arrival of steel, being there when engines were brought over the ice prior to the erection of bridges. After some years in Winnipeg, he felt the urge to return to his old home, going back to the Atlantic province in 1899. However, the lure of the West had too strong a hold on him, for in 1909 he again came west, this time crossing the Rockies and settling in Penticton. He is survived by his widow, two daughters, Miss Mary Florence MacDougall, of Penticton, and Mrs. Frank Mahoney, of Hedy, and one son, Roderick MacDougall, of Vancouver. A sister, Mrs. John MacDougall, of Boston, who visited him here last year, also survives. Last rites were held from St. Ann's Roman Catholic church on Tuesday morning, Rev. Fr. Griffin, O.M.I., officiating.

HOLD TRACK MEET

SUMMERLAND, B.C., May 9.—There was fine weather for the annual track meet held by the schools at the school grounds on Friday afternoon, May 6. There was keen participation in all events, emphasized by the background of greater interest in physical training which has been shown since the beginning of the recreational classes last fall. Many parents attended, and the long list of events which began at 2 p.m. was run off with dispatch, and finished just after 5 o'clock.

RECORD GYPSUM SHIPMENTS

He travelled round the world four times as a ship's engineer, then enlisted with the French Foreign Legion for service in Morocco. VERNON JUNIOR BOARD OF TRADE ARRANGES FIRST ANNUAL DINNER

Large Kelowna Contingent In Attendance At Enjoyable Affair

Eighteen members of the Kelowna Junior Board of Trade, Mayor Harry Bowman, Aldermen David Howie, Everard Clarke, and C. J. Hurt, City Clerk J. W. Wright, and President H. W. Galbraith and Secretary H. P. Coombes, of the Vernon Board of Trade, gathered in the National Hotel on Tuesday evening as special guests at the local Junior Board of Trade's first annual dinner.

Approximately 75 were in attendance and were welcomed by retiring President N. J. Carey immediately after dinner had been served to the large gathering. A unique feature of the meal was the serving of various prize winning Okanagan products, including butter, cheese, elder, celery, and, of course, apples in pie. This is in line with the Junior Board's policy of encouraging home industries.

The members of the Kelowna contingent were introduced by their president, Don C. Fillmore, during the course of the evening. After introducing the aldermen in attendance, Mayor Harry Bowman made a short speech, and he paid a high tribute to the work carried on by the Junior Board here.

"I think it is a fine thing to have a Junior Board of Trade," he remarked. "I would like to congratulate the board on fixing up the airport, aiding in cleaning up of our town, and killing all the mosquitoes at Kalamalka Lake. You made a really good job of that. I was out there this week and I couldn't find one mosquito."

That he could not "commend too highly the work being done by the Junior Board in Vernon" was President H. W. Galbraith's remark. "Sometimes," the Senior Board head declared, "youth in its enthusiasm does not find the most useful projects, but the Junior Board's selections here have been most helpful and have been work that was overlooked."

In concluding, Mr. Galbraith said he had three "d's" to pass on to the young men: discretion in selection of projects; dispatch in executing them, and not to be discouraged by delays.

Capt. Coombes, the board secretary, said that he had considered it an honor to be named first vice-president of the Junior Board when that body was just being formed; and now that it has shown its determination he was more than ever proud.

A number of enjoyable selections were given by a quartette of Alan Davidson, Carl Wylie, W. L. Seaton, and J. U. Holt. Mrs. C. W. Gaunt Stevenson accompanied at the piano. Following the dinner meeting, the Kelowna visitors were guests of the Junior Board at a social hour in the Canadian Legion club rooms.

BULB PRODUCTION IS DESCRIBED BY SUMMERLAND EXPERT

"Taken on the whole, it may safely be assumed that of the many phases of gardening the production of bulbs is one of the most fascinating, for the simple reason that you can be assured of a fine display with expenditure of the least amount of time and trouble," declared A. Hornby, head gardener of the Summerland Experimental Station, in an address at the Women's Institute Hall on Wednesday evening. Mr. Hornby's talk was held in connection with the Vernon & District Horticultural Society's tulip show.

"Unless you desire to grow the new and expensive varieties, you can have a fine collection of flowers with very little expense, and this is an important consideration, I am sure you will agree."

"A dry bulb may seem an inert thing, although at such a time it is dormant. Nevertheless it is at work during the greater part of the year to produce the flower."

A more detailed account of Mr. Hornby's address will be given in the next issue of The Vernon News.

Scouters' Conference In This City Studies Valley-Wide Problems

Provincial Commissioner Solway Attends Session And Aids Discussion

The Annual Scouters' Conference of the Okanagan met in the supper room of the Scout Hall, Vernon, on Monday to discuss topics of the Scout- ing that had arisen since the last meeting, and also to decide on the feasibility of a combined district Scout Camp at Otter Bay this summer.

At the beginning of the meeting, R. Peters of the Vernon Boy Scouts Association turned the chair over to District Commissioner E. C. Weddell of Kelowna, who welcomed to the meeting, W. Solway, of Vancouver, Executive Provincial Commissioner of Boy Scouts.

The attendance revealed the presence of Scout Leaders from Revelstoke, Salmon Arm, Rutland, and Kelowna, as well as Vernon, while letters were on hand from Oliver and Wenatchee regarding that representatives from those centres were unable to attend.

Business arising from the minutes was handled first with a discussion of the Registration of Scouts. At the close of the discussion on this subject, Mr. Solway expressed the hope that some of the leaders from the Valley might be able to attend the Scouters Training Camps at Victoria during the last week in July and at Camp Byng during the last two weeks in August.

To open the subject of a combined district camp at Otter Bay this summer, Assistant District Commissioner C. W. Morrow told the meeting that he had written to Scout Troops throughout the Valley, suggesting the possibility of a combined Scouts Camp at Otter Bay with Scouts from Kamloops and Revelstoke in the north, to Wenatchee in the south attending. The meeting as a whole felt that while the idea was acceptable in many respects, the most pressing Scouting need in the Okanagan at present was the organization of a Scouters Training Camp run on similar lines to those at the Coast. It was felt that while many leaders would like to attend the Coast camps, the expense of time and money was prohibitive. As a result of discussions on this matter, C. W. Morrow moved that a Scouters Training Camp should be held at Otter Bay during the first week of July this summer. The motion was

ELECTRIC COOKING TO BE DEMONSTRATED

To demonstrate the quality of cooking that can be obtained through the use of an electric range, Miss Mulhall, of the domestic science staff of the Gurney Foundry Co., of Montreal, will give demonstrations in this city on Friday and Saturday. Cooking problems will be discussed and many types of recipes considered. Miss Mulhall will also be joined by Mrs. Hunt, of the West Canadian Hydro Electric Corp., in this city, who will give demonstrations in electric refrigeration, washing, and ironing, and the Kelly, Douglas company will exhibit its food products. The two-day demonstrations should prove of very keen interest to all Vernon housewives.

FIRE DEPARTMENT'S PROTEST HELD OVER

Communication "Laid On Table" Until Chassis Is Inspected

The protest by the executive of the Vernon Fire Department regarding the City Council's recent decision to purchase a certain new truck chassis contrary to the Fire Department's recommendation was read at the Council session Monday evening. The final decision was to lay the letter on the table until the truck has been inspected by the Council and the firemen's executive. Under date of April 26, the communication, from Secretary A. G. Downing, states: "At a meeting of the executive of the Vernon Fire Department held this day, the following motion was passed: 'That this executive note that the City Council has decided to purchase an International D 35 1 1/2-ton truck. This is entirely contrary to our recommendation.'

"We are still of the opinion that nothing less than a three-ton chassis should be considered, and protest that a 1 1/2-ton truck will not meet the requirements."

Alderman C. J. Hurt was the first speaker after the letter was read by City Clerk J. W. Wright, and he suggested that it "be received and filed."

Alderman Everard Clarke thought that the communication should be suitably acknowledged, but the final decision was passage of Alderman Howie's motion that it should be laid on the table.

KELLY, DOUGLAS & CO. LIMITED

TO DEDICATE CHURCH ON SUNDAY AFTERNOON

On Sunday afternoon next at 2:30 o'clock, the Vernon Assembly of the Pentecostal Assemblies of Canada will hold a special dedication service in the new church building on the corner of Mara Avenue and Price Street.

The service will be taken by the Rev. J. A. Hughes, of Victoria, B.C. superintendent of the P.A.O.C., who will be in this city for two weeks or possibly longer. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend the dedication.

Known as the Pull Gospel Tabernacle, the Vernon Assembly has been established here for approximately ten years and has had as its pastor Rev. J. W. Knights, formerly of North Vancouver, who has been here for five years. The first pastor was Rev. E. North, followed by Rev. Olsen, and Rev. Eric Hallary.

The new building, purchased from the city, is part of the Mason Street school, now being demolished, and served as the laboratory. It is a brick structure.

KELOWNA CANADIAN LEGION PIPE BAND ACCLAIMED IN U.S.

Wenatchee Apple Blossom Festival Is Setting For "Kilties"

The Wenatchee Daily World mentions the Kelowna pipers in several issues and praises the colorful addition to the already colorful parade. It is estimated that 30,000 persons lined Wenatchee's main streets for this annual pageant. There were 19 bands to add thrills to the float parade, comments the Wenatchee World.

"Receiving the most cheers and adding a different note to the parade was the Canadian Legion Pipe Band, the Scotch kilties, from Kelowna, B.C. The 20-piece band was greeted with cheers all along the line of march.

In the new uniforms, recently purchased from Glasgow, Scotland, the pipe band never showed to better advantage. Len Richards, Canadian Legion secretary, states. Their precision and marching was of the best.

The color squad leading the parade was headed by an American with the Stars and Stripes, and by Len Richards, with the Union Jack. Alderman George W. Sutherland carried the Canadian Legion standard at the head of the pipe band, and Melba Kennedy marched with him, in full Scottish regalia. The band paraded twice at the ball park, before packed stands, and Melba Kennedy's execution of several Scottish dances brought sweeping applause.

The pipe band's trip to Wenatchee was sponsored by the Kelowna Board of Trade, while several regalia and individuals contributed to the expenses. The new regalia, recently purchased, cost $250, while the Wenatchee trip meant an appropriation of about $200, Mr. Richards reports.

The cost of the trip has been fully subscribed yet, Mr. Richards states, and any further contributions will be gratefully received.

W. Ashbury drove most of the pipe band to Wenatchee while the equipment was taken south by Alderman Sutherland.

Those in the Kelowna group consisted of: G. N. Kennedy, drum major; R. Stewart, drum sergeant; C. Whitehorn, W. Stranaghan, H. Marshall, J. Davis and W. Woods, drummers; J. Arthur, pipe major; A. Mitchell, pipe sergeant; R. Booth, C. Henderson, W. Nuttall, W. Arthur, A. Spence and R. Marshall, pipers; L. Richards, Alderman G. W. Sutherland, standard bearers; Miss Melba Kennedy, Scotch dancer.

A Book Review

Examining Insurgent Spain

"BURGOS JUSTICE"
By A. R. Vilaplana
Macmillan in Canada, $2.50

Methods of administration in Nationalist Spain are laid bare in a recent book by an author whose qualifications as a competent observer would seem to be very reliable.

Antonio Ruiz Vilaplana held the post of Commissioner of Justice in Burgos for some time prior to that eventful night of July 17, 1936, when civil war broke out and for almost a year thereafter he was stationed at the same strategic point from which to watch the train of events that followed. It was in that centre that General Mola formed the first "government" of Insurgent Spain, and Vilaplana was an official participant to a degree. In many other conferences, investigations, and acts of the new military officialdom, he was involved. He attempted, the reader would gather, to carry on as best he could. But finally, heart-broken and nearly crazed by the horrible toll of official "murders" as he terms many of the executions he was forced to witness, he went to France. He crossed the border still holding his rank, he was saluted by the guards at the frontier, but safe in Paris he sat down to record his previous year's experiences and observations.

His book, "Burgos Justice," has created a sensation. Translated into English by W. Horstall Carter, it was soon published at London by Constable & Co., Ltd. Such a reliable firm was therefore considerably interested when a speaker in the House of Lords made certain charges against the author. It was alleged that Vilaplana had abandoned his wife and child in Madrid, that he had been guilty of embezzlement, and, among several other things, that he had lived for a time with a "variety artiste."

Constable & Co. not at all anxious to publish unworthy material, made a prompt investigation. The charges, stupid enough in the first place, were disproven. To the suggestion that the author had abandoned his wife and children in answer, he wrote the peer of England, inviting him to come to Paris to visit his, Vilaplana's, wife and children, to get the facts, and to "see and hear for himself." The noble then loftily announced that the whole issue was closed. All this makes quite intriguing reading in the foreword of the book.

But it is the stuff of "Burgos Justice" itself that rouses even more significant attention. It is not a picturesque reading. The various chapters form a terrible indictment of the nationalist insurgent methods of "justice" and the sensitive liberty-loving mind recoils from the nature of the facts as they are presented. The author never labors his point. Throughout, there is a judicious restraint. But the horrible picture is painted with no less emphasis as a result, for the reader feels the bottled-up anguish in Vilaplana's heart in every quiet line.

The book tells of Burgos before the civil war, and of the tremendous influence of the church and the landed aristocracy. The coming of the Blue Shirts and other organizations is graphically sketched. The harnessing of every element of hatred and repression, against those who were attempting to work for what they conceived to be a more just social order, is outlined as the testament of a man who lived in a foreign position to judge the extent of foreign intervention on Franco's side, because of his position at the seat of government in Nationalist Spain.

As one who has lived in Franco's territory for the whole of the first year of fighting, I can testify that support from Germany has been the essential and fundamental factor in the war. The Italian aid he describes as "demonstrative but not effective."

The chapter on "The Foreign Invaders" is particularly interesting reading, but there are also other valuable sections, analyzing Franco himself and other insurgent generals, the church, the army and militia elements, and the people as a whole.

Any book so far written on the Spanish conflict may well be read with a considerable amount of suspicion. The fires of hate flame so high that they may, for the time being, do much to injure truth. But here at least is a document, that has one vital quality not apparent in most of the propaganda literature. It calls for more tolerance towards all.

PENTICTON FISH AND GAME CLUB LEASES LAND AT CHUTE LAKE

PENTICTON, B.C., May 7.—Announcement was made this week by President Gordon Toombs of the Pentiction and District Fish and Game Protective Association that the association has taken over, from P. W. Rutland, a cabin and approximately three acres of land at Chute Lake, together with three boats and some cabin equipment.

A new lease of the property from the provincial forestry department, in the name of Dr. Toombs, H. P. Gillingham, R. J. McDougall, chairman of the camps, trails and parks committee, has been issued. These three are named as trustees of the Chute Lake property on behalf of the association.

The Chute Lake cabin and boats will be operated this season by E. R. Adams, who plans to provide six new boats and two extra cabins. In the addition to the club cabin on the leased property, there is already a cabin owned by P. Boguel and Edwin MacDonald. It is understood that the committee may, from time to time, arrange for other club members to build their own cabins on selected spots on the club's lease-hold land.

TEMPERATURE HIGHER

SUMMERLAND, B.C., May 9.—The April weather report from the Summerland Experimental Station showed a rainfall of 26 inches against a 22 year average of .67. The mean temperature was 46.55, almost two degrees higher than the average of 47.09 degrees. There were 203.3 hours of sunshine. The records for April show an average of 103 hours.

The King Had A Word To Say About This

On the back of this and other pictures released at the same time was the notice: "It is the special request of the King that Princess Margaret Rose should not be cut out of any of these pictures." The photographs had been taken in connection with Princess Elizabeth's 12th birthday. The first royal request ever issued about a news picture was intended to stop special attention to the heir to the throne on that ground that she is still a child. WILSON'S LAKE DAM IS NOW RUNNING OVER

Peak Of Flood Season Is Still Ahead In The Peachland Area

PEACHLAND, B.C., May 9.—Wilson's Lake dam is full and running over according to L. B. Pulks, chairman of the Peachland Irrigation District. All the surrounding lowlands are still filled with snow. The trail to the North Fork dam is still covered with snow.

Fishing parties were able to get into the South Fork Lake on the Princeton road last week, but the last mile or two had to be covered on foot. There was too much snow on the road for cars to get through. Both Deep and Trepanier Creeks have lessened in volume since last week, but the peak of the flood season is still ahead, it is thought.

Further trouble with the water supply to the power plant last week caused poor lights for several nights due to lack of pressure. With the creek going down the cause could not be determined until on Friday morning the tower of the dam was again drained and cleaned out and it was found that seven new gunny sacks were against the iron grill that covered the opening to the pipe from the dam. When these were removed good pressure was obtained and electricity generated up to strength. The tower was free after it was cleared on Sunday, so how the sacks got there remains a mystery.

The B. C. Telephone Company had a crew here last week changing the line over to the new location on the lakeshore. The right of way had been cleared last fall for this work and the change was soon made. The new highway was also widened for this quarter mile south of town after the poles were moved back to their new location.

Rutland bowed to Peachland in the first game of the season played on the Peachland diamond in an interesting fixture which finished 6 to 4. With no score for three innings Dan Cousins made the first run in the fourth with N. Ekins making another in the fifth. Rutland tied it up in the sixth, but Peachland made two more in the seventh to take the lead. The eighth saw Rutland again tie the score but Peachland with two more runs in this inning secured the game. This was an exhibition game, the first League game to start next Sunday.

Batteries: G. Ekins, Clements, and N. Ekins for Peachland and H. Wostrowski, Daeh, and Holleyky.

The War-Winchell-Bon-Bernie-Simone Simon film at the Empress Theatre, on Monday and Tuesday, May 10 and 11. Five Teams Entered In Cricket League

Spencer Cup Competitions Open Here Sunday—Grounds In Fine Shape

This season's Spencer Cup schedule, the fixture dates of which have been announced, is the most ambitious yet attempted in the lengthy history of Okanagan cricket, with no less than five elevens in the competition.

As was the case last year there are three local teams entered—Vernon City, Canadian Legion, and Farmers—and besides these Salmon Arm and Pentiction will compete.

The opening game of the Spencer Cup schedule is slated for the Orchard City, Naramata is yet another Okanagan centre that wants friendly games.

The lakeview grounds, part of the city's park system, have been placed in wonderful condition for this year's play. Practically all of the five acres of land now has a thick covering of green grass and arrangements are being made to put water on the remainder. J. Tull is again groundsman.

Within the comparatively short space of five years, the field has been transformed. Where once was only a ploughed plot now stands a clubhouse, practice pitch, and excellent grounds. This year has seen construction of a score of new buildings, lawnmower, purchased last year, is now in use.

Ever Wonder Why You're Constipated?

Do you ever have days when you just have to drag yourself along, when you feel tired, and because of that constipation? Then why not find out the real cause of your trouble?

What have you had to eat lately? Just things like meat, bread and potatoes? If that's it, you may not have to look any further. It's likely your trouble is you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean a lot of food. It means a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines and aids elimination.

If "bulk" is what you lack, your ticket is a dish of crisp crunchy Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast every day. It contains the "bulk" you need plus Nature's great intestinal tonic, vitamin B₁. Eat it every day, drink plenty of water, and join the "regular" Made by Kellogg in London, Ont.

Few House Wives Know

That when vegetables are cooked exposed to the air they suffer a great loss in Vitamin C. For example raw cabbage is very high in Vitamin C, but cooked cabbage is quite low.

Bulmans Tomatoes are not exposed to the air in canning, being sealed hermetically, before cooking. That is why Bulmans Sunbeam, Sunful and Bee Cee Pak tomatoes are so high in Vitamin C.

Raw Tomatoes are high in Vitamin C, and Bulmans canned tomatoes are almost as high. The wise Vernon housewife therefore uses Bulmans Tomatoes at this time of year when fresh vegetables are expensive.

You too can be sure that your family are receiving plenty of nourishment by seeing that they get lots of Bulmans Tomatoes every day.

Panning for Gold—1896

The cry "Gold in the Klondike" first echoed around the world in 1896. Men of many nations joined in the search for hidden wealth. British Columbia prospered, sharing the sudden boom which enriched the neighbouring territory.

Thirteen years before this momentous discovery, the Canada Life issued its first policy to a resident of British Columbia. Even then, it was thirty-six years old.

For ninety-one years, through war and epidemic, through twelve major depressions, the Canada Life has met its obligations promptly and in full. Among the strongest of co-operative enterprises, today its policyholders have well over $800,000,000 of insurance in the company.

Lutheran Pastors In Conference Here Have Busy Sessions

"Centennial Call Of The Cross" Is Theme Of Three-Day Gathering

The B.C. Lutheran Pastoral Conference, Missouri Synod, adjourned its sessions Thursday last after three days of strenuous work, centering around the "Centennial Call of the Cross." This title has reference to the fact that one hundred years ago a number of Saxon Lutheran immigrants came to this continent, and became the founders of the "Missouri Synod" and that now the members of this organization plan to show their appreciation by inaugurating an extensive and intensive mission program. The Rev. V. L. Meyer, of Nelson, B.C., led the discussion on this topic.

Conference discussed a number of specially prepared essays. The Rev. O. Shedler, of Vancouver, read an exegetical study, pointing out what he termed the soul-destroying sin of "lukewarmness" and its remedy. The Rev. E. Hopka, of Prince George, stressed the importance of good preaching and gave many examples on the art of sermonizing. The subject, "How To Gain The Un-churched," was treated at length by the Rev. A. H. Haake, of New Westminster, while the Rev. E. Biberdorf read a treatise on, "The Duty of Christians Toward the Government," stressing that the Bible requires obedience of subjects over against their superiors.

A vote of thanks was given St. John's congregation for hospitality shown to conference.

St. John's Church, itself, enjoyed three anniversary services last Sunday, when large congregations attended. The Rev. W. G. Fechner, of Northbrook, Ill., who served the church from 1913 to 1918, was the special preacher at the morning and evening services, and the Rev. E. Hopka, of Prince George, spoke in the afternoon.

CORRECTION

In a report of a meeting of the Vernon Fish & Game Protective Association, in last week's issue of The Vernon News, it was stated that a letter was read from the B.C. Game Board asking the club to express its views on the administration of the Migratory Birds' Convention Act, now handled by the Dominion at Ottawa, and whether or not sportsmen favor shifting control to the provinces. This is incorrect as the circular letter in question was sent out from the B.C. Fish & Game Protective Association, through the secretary, Charles Wilkinson, of Vancouver, and not from the Game Board.

FINED FOR TAKING DRINK WHILE IN CAR

PENTICTON, B.C., May 11.—Taking a drink while seated in an automobile may be legal elsewhere, but in contrary to the law of British Columbia, and costly if one is caught, as was discovered by three local people this week end.

Arrested on Saturday night on Vancouver avenue, as occupants of three different cars, the three accused, William B. Earl, Roger Lye and Miss Melvin Bedford, appeared in police court on Monday morning. A plea of guilty was entered in each instance, Earl being fined $50 and costs and the other two $50 each.

KELOWNA MAN FACES CHARGE OF HAVING FABRICATED EVIDENCE

Leonard Lucas Alleged To Have Placed Still On Hindu's Property

KELOWNA, B.C., May 11.—Leonard Lucas, who was previously sentenced to three months imprisonment for being in possession of a still found on the property of Lakha Singh, Hindu, at Ellison, is in Kamloops jail awaiting the next County Court proceedings to which he has been committed on a charge of fabricating evidence.

This second charge alleges that Lucas, with intent to mislead, did place a still upon the property of Lakha Singh, thereby fabricating evidence likely to render the said Lakha Singh liable to suspicion, accusation and arrest.

In the preliminary hearing, before Magistrate T. F. McWilliams, with H. V. Craig as defense counsel, Provincial Constable W. J. Butler, R.C.M.P. Constable J. A. Atherton, Penticton, and William J. Leslie, tinsmith, and Mrs. Leslie were the prosecution witnesses.

The evidence related that Lucas came to Constable Butler's premises at 4 o'clock in the morning of April 6 and told the officer that he had found a still on Lakha Singh's farm at Ellison. Butler had told Lucas that he doubted the authenticity of the story, and later in the morning informed the R.C.M.P. at Penticton. Constable Atherton arrived later that day and found the still on Lakha Singh's farm.

But it was also found that a still had been manufactured to order by William Leslie, that Lucas had taken this still away on April 5, and it was the same still which was found at the Hindu's farm.

Lucas had approached the police in both Kelowna and Penticton on more than one previous occasion, with information against Lakha Singh, in regard to the possession of a still, the court was informed.

Defense was reserved and Lucas refrained from making any statement. On this evidence he was committed for trial.

In this case, the R.C.M.P. placed a charge of manufacturing a still suitable for the manufacture of liquor, against William J. Leslie, tinsmith. He was found guilty, and fined the minimum of $100 or three months in jail, although he stated that he did not know what it was for or that it was against the law when Lucas placed the order. The fine was paid.

RENDERED UNCONSCIOUS BY AMMONIA FUMES IN PENTICTON WAREHOUSE

PENTICTON, B.C., May 11.—A narrow escape from serious ill effects occurred on Saturday afternoon when Roy Naismith, of the F. R. Stewart warehouse here, was overcome by ammonia fumes. Taken to the Penticton hospital for treatment, he has fully recovered.

A plug on the refrigeration compressor at the fruit company's warehouse blew out, whereupon Mr. Naismith attempted to stop the flow of ammonia with his hand. Besides splashing up into his face and causing painful but not serious burns, the fumes of the liquid rendered him unconscious.

A few moments later members of the refrigeration staff of the Penticton Co-operative Grocers arrived with ammonia gas masks, and succeeded in stopping the flow of ammonia from the plant. This action saved a considerable loss of fruit, officials of the fruit company stated. Included in those who answered the call for assistance were Jack Fell, Ernie Baukhram, E. S. Suddes and P. Loveridge.

KELOWNA HOME INVADIED

On Saturday evening, the home of Mrs. Lillian Lee, Graham street, was broken into and a sum of money, two gold coins and a small quantity of costume jewelry were stolen. Provincial Police spent the rest of Saturday night and until early Sunday morning on a chase of the thieves. Two transients were apprehended for the night but were released later when no evidence could be produced to indicate that they were guilty.

HEAVY PLANTINGS OF TOMATOES REPORTED IN PAST TWO WEEKS

There have been heavy plantings of tomatoes during the past two weeks, it is reported by H. H. Evans, district field inspector.

The full extent of the acreage to be planted in this area cannot yet be estimated, but some observers reckoned that about half the total was set out by Monday last. Plantings will likely continue until about the end of the present week.

In the Vernon vicinity the Bella Vista section has experienced the heaviest tomato plantings.

All vegetable crops have been coming along rapidly recently. As far as asparagus is concerned, the growers are right in the cutting stage, with a fairly heavy tonnage moving to the cannery. Spinach is also starting to move from the small early patches. Other local stuff is made up of leaf lettuce, radish, and bunched onions. Next to come will be early cabbage and beets, but that will not be for a considerable time yet.

Recent rain has been of some slight advantage, but it was not sufficient.

"What the district needs," says Mr. Evans, "is about 48 hours of steady heavy rain."

Spring grain crops are rather spotty, it is reported. They are not germinating quite as well as if there had been abundant rainfall recently.

To carry equipment to a gold mine in the mountains of Peru recently, two airplanes each capable of carrying two ton loads, were used.

Makes England-New Zealand Return

It required 10 days, 20 hours and 40 minutes for Flying Officer A. E. Clouston and Victor Ricketts to fly from Oroydon airport to New Zealand and return. They left England March 15 and were dining in the "down under" dominion four days later. They immediately took off again and headed for home. At Oroydon they found two enthusiastic welcome on hand at least. The four—Clouston, Mrs. Clouston, Ricketts and Mrs. Ricketts, left to right, held a private reunion that ignored the battery of press cameras which surrounded them.

Four Instantly Killed, One Dies Later In Sundridge, Ont., Level Crossing Accident

From this pile of mangled steel, the bodies of four dead men were pulled, April 27, and two others so seriously injured that one died later. Six farmers of Sundridge, Ont., were bound for a day's fishing at Callander a few minutes before this picture was taken. Apparently they did not observe an approaching C.N.R. freight train when they reached the level crossing near Sundridge station. Engine and car came into collision with such force that the auto was rolled over and over along the tracks for 300 feet. No sooner had the wreckage been dropped aside than flames enveloped the six. Lying on the ground at right is a man whose home is only a short distance away from the scene of the crash. In one of the four homes represented, a woman who was totally blinded in an auto accident a year ago learned that her 24-year-old son had been killed.

BELOVED WESTBANK RESIDENT, MRS. JANE ACHESON, 84, DIES

Attended Opening Of First Canadian Parliament—
Mourned By Many

WESTBANK, B.C., May 9.—Westbank lost one of its best beloved residents on Thursday, May 5, when the death occurred at Kelowna hospital of Mrs. Jane Acheson, in her 85th year. She was the widow of the late Lieut.-Col. H. Acheson, of Saskatoon, Sask.

The daughter of John Fowler, Mrs. Acheson was born at Cobourg, Ontario, in July, 1853, and during her lifetime witnessed many interesting historical events in the development of the Dominion. Her early years were spent in private schools in Ottawa and Montreal, and while at school in Ottawa, she attended the first opening of Parliament in Canada, and also paid a visit to Rideau Hall while Lord Monk was Governor-General.

Coming west before the Reil rebellion, she was with her brother, Robert Fowler, who had charge of the construction of a section of the C.P.R. railroad, then building toward Winnipeg through the Lake Superior country. A line also was built out from Winnipeg to meet the approaching railroad, and the late Mrs. Acheson well remembered the intense effort that was made to join the two lines before election day, as Sir John A. MacDonald had promised to complete the line to Winnipeg, and every effort was made to stand by the Premier who had backed the undertaking. The steel met on Mr. Fowler's division, and Lady MacDonald, wife of the Premier, was to have officiated at the driving of the last spike. She failed to reach the division in time, and the honor was conferred on Mrs. Acheson, who was then Miss Fowler.

The late Lt.-Col. Acheson practiced law at Winnipeg; Souris, Man.; and at Saskatoon, Sask., and died in Saskatoon in 1917. Their only son, Dudley, was killed in action overseas in 1916. Mrs. Acheson came to the Okanagan in 1920, and made her home with her sister, Miss Fowler, at Penticton and Victoria, until after her sister's death some years ago. Since that time, Mrs. Acheson has resided with her daughter, Mrs. Fritchard, at Westbank.

The late Mrs. Acheson was an ardent member of the Anglican Church, and was always actively engaged in church work. She was a woman of great strength of character and was ever a leader in all that made for the betterment of the community in which she lived. Until the day of her death she was keenly alert to world problems, yet no local happening was too small to claim her sympathy, encouragement and help. Her graciousness and understanding was such as it is given to few to possess, and her life was an example, not only to those who knew her intimately, but to those who lived within her sphere of influence, regardless of belief or creed.

Friends from far and near crowded St. George's Church, Westbank, on Sunday, May 8, to pay their last respects to one who leaves something of beauty in the life of each one, which will last as long as life itself.

Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Archdeacon Solly, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Pearson, rector of St. George's Church. Burial was at Westbank cemetery.

Hospital Bazaar At Enderby Is Attended By Capacity Crowd

K.P. Hall Tastefully Decorated For Event—Dance In Evening

ENDERBY, B.C., May 9.—A very successful hospital bazaar was held in the K.P. Hall on Saturday afternoon and much praise was received by those who had decorated the booths. Very striking was the candy stall, attended by Mrs. L. Mackay and Mrs. C. Whitten, which was decorated in white, with many colored candy baskets. A sharp contrast was the fancy work stall in red, white, and blue, and attended by Mrs. W. Duncan and Mrs. H. Chomat. Giving a delicate spring appearance was the home cooking stall in yellow, with dainty green icicles. This stall was attended by Mrs. E. Foster, assisted by Mrs. Allum. The fish pond centered the hall, and Mrs. L. Lantz took charge. The plant table was decorated in green and white, and Mrs. Fred Ellington assisted. Operating the "house house," which was decorated in deep orange and purple, was Mrs. W. Freeman, Miss A. Gravert, F. Ellington, and W. Freeman. Masses of bright yellow daisies were banked in front of the stage giving an appearance of color and gaiety.

Throughout the afternoon tea was served by Mrs. H. Walker, Jr., and Mrs. Arthur Teese, assisted by Mrs. P. Farmer and the Misses Yvonne Chomat, Vera Cole, and Helen McMahon. An added attraction during the afternoon was a musical skit, the "Wedding of the Painted Doll," put on by a number of youngsters, directed by Mrs. J. Enoch and Miss G. Rands. Miss Hazel Ulas assisted. A tap dance number by Miss Betty Skelly and Miss Patricia Dickson was much enjoyed. Mrs. J. Enoch accompanied at the piano. During the afternoon tea cups were read by Mrs. Bailey, of Grindrod, and Miss G. Rands.

Lucky tickets were held by Mrs. Williams, of Grindrod, for the pillow cases; Miss H. Rosoman, the cushion top; C. Mundrell, a pair of gloves; T. Hughes, the bath mat. A large crowd attended the dance held in the hall in the evening, the "Serenaders" orchestra, of Armstrong, playing.

Jerry Landen, of Armstrong, drew the lucky ticket for the box of candy.

Much credit is due Mrs. G. Duncan, the president of the Auxiliary, and the other members co-operating with her who made the bazaar such a financial success.

Mrs. Strudwick, of Salmon Arm, was in Enderby on Monday afternoon, visiting at the homes of Mrs. H. Hendrickson and Mrs. Thomas Kneale.

WESTBANK CO-OP TO REDEEM SHARES FROM ITS ACCOUNT SALES

J. U. Gellatly Elected Central Director At Annual Gathering

WESTBANK, B.C., May 9.—The 15th annual meeting of the Westbank Co-operative Growers' Association was held on Wednesday, May 4, 1938, with a fair attendance of members, and the president, W. H. Hewlett, in the chair.

The directors' report and financial statements were presented, and after being discussed, were finally adopted. The following were elected as directors for the coming year: W. H. Hewlett, Dave Gellatly, J. W. Hannam, S. J. Hewlett, and E. C. Paynter. J. U. Gellatly was elected as central director and C. H. Jackson, as auditor.

A lively discussion took place regarding the need for some system of redeeming shares, and it was finally agreed to make a deduction from the growers' account sales, for the purpose of purchasing shares for tender. While this was not quite agreeable to some of those present, it was finally passed with one vote against it.

Another question was taken up with regard to assisting members to finance their operations, as it has been felt that something should be done along this line. It was recommended to the incoming board, that they study the matter, with a view to putting into operation some plan whereby more assistance could be extended to those requiring it.

Westbank Women's Institute held their second annual cemetery cleanup day on Saturday, April 30, when about 25 men, women and children gathered to make the grounds around the cemetery cleaner and tidier than they did last year.

Much was accomplished, and not the least part by the children, who worked well, and to whom a great deal of thanks and praise is due, for their willingness and co-operation. In the afternoon, several of the men-folk cleaned up some of the undergrowth, which was springing up in one corner of the cemetery, while most of the girls and boys, and the women set to work to clear logs, stumps and branches from the surrounding grounds, which after a great deal of hard work, looked very much improved as a result. The approach to the cemetery was made to look a very different place, and huge piles of stumps and logs were hauled away to some distance and burned.

The second broadcast in the series of twenty-four "Prom" Symphony broadcasts, under the direction of Reginald Stewart, from the Varsity Arena, Toronto, will be presented by the CBC over the combined CBC and NBC-Blue networks tonight, Thursday, May 12, 5:00 to 6:00 p.m. The one-hour broadcast will feature one of the world's greatest violinists, William Primrose, of London, England, as soloist. The famous Bach Choir of Toronto, in addition, will assist the 90-piece orchestra in the concluding selection, "Polovetzian Dances" from "Prince Igor" by the Russian composer Borodin.

William Primrose, one of the world's greatest violinists, will be heard over the CBC national network tonight, Thursday, during the broadcast of the Toronto Promenade Symphony Orchestra, was born in Glasgow, Scotland, and studied for ten years under Ysaie in Belgium. In 1929 Mr. Primrose became the violinist member of the world-famous London String Quartet, which has been heard frequently during both home programs and Empire short-wave transmissions of the British Broadcasting Corporation. On various occasions Mr. Primrose has been heard with the world's leading symphony and chamber music societies, including the London Philharmonic Orchestra, the Washington Library of Congress series of recitals, and the newly-formed NBC Symphony Orchestra in which he has been the leading viola player under Arturo Toscanini and various other outstanding musicians. His present engagement to perform Benjamin Dale's "Romance" during the Toronto Promenade Symphony Concert tonight, will be the second occasion his masterful playing will be heard over the CBC.

The "case for culture" will be presented by Dorothy Marks and Robert Edmonds, of Toronto, during the broadcast "Youth Intervenes" today, Thursday, May 12, 7:15 to 9:30 p.m., over the national network of the CBC. The speakers who will be heard are actively engaged in artistic work. Miss Marks is an associate of the Ontario College of Art, a member of the Allied Arts Council and of the Toronto Youth Council. Mr. Edmonds has been identified with the theatre movement in Canada as an actor, producer and he has studied at first hand the activities of many of the Dominion's most effective theatre groups. It is their purpose to discuss what art can do for young Canadians and what young Canadians can do for Canadian art. "Youth Intervenes" is a series of broadcast talks presenting the points of view of Canadian youth with regard to the problems of Canada and the speakers are young citizens of Canada who are variously engaged in the arts, in industry and in academic pursuits.

The use of slang in modern verse is no shock to students of contemporary poetry, including the devotees of such famous rhymers as Dorothy Parker. But the use of currently popular colloquialisms by no means is the practice of only the contemporary writers. These, and other interesting sidelights on the vagaries of poetry, will be described for CBC listeners when J. Campbell McInnes speaks next on "This English." This second broadcast in the new series devoted to the history of English speech will be heard Friday, May 13, 12:45 p.m., when the eminent speech authority will give examples of Elizabethan verse in which the slang expressions or common sayings of the day were effectively introduced. The discussion will be illustrated with selections from the poetry of Shakespeare.

The art of listening, one which must be cultivated and encouraged if the entertainment world's greatest audience is to appreciate radio's service, will be discussed by Dr. Healy Willan in his next brief talk "On Matters Musical," which will be heard over the CBC national network from the Toronto studios tonight, Thursday, May 12, 3:45 to 4:00 p.m. Dr. Willan, one of Canada's leading musical authorities, will have some interesting things to say, particularly with regard to the art of listening to music. The growing demand for Canada's program on the part of other countries, the increasing interest of the Canadian public in the broadcasting of fine music and the methods of presenting music for the enjoyment of an audience which encounters conductor and orchestra through the auditory sense only will be discussed informally and Dr. Willan will illustrate his comments with musical selections at the piano.

Sophisticated swing in the ultra-modern arrangements of Percy Faith, Canada's celebrated arranger-director, will be heard five thousand miles from the studios in which the music originates on Saturday, May 14, 4:30 to 5:00 p.m. On this date the CBC will send its second salute to Hawaii, "Hawaii Across the Sea," to an international audience through the facilities of the Mutual Broadcasting System and by short wave to Honolulu. A coast-to-coast audience in Canada will join the listeners of the U.S. and Hawaii, "Hawaii Across the Sea," which had its premiere last week, will feature artists in swimming, twenty versatile instrumentalists, under the Faith baton; the "Hawaii Across the Sea" choral ensemble, and the young lyric baritone, Dave Davies.

Arcangelo Paganini Corelli, famous Italian composer for the violin, will be honored on the national network of the CBC on Sunday, May 15, during the weekly violin recital by Jean deLima, noted Hungarian violinist, which will originate in the Vancouver studios. This quarter-hour of violin music will be heard at 3:45 p.m. Mr. deLima will play Corelli's "La Folia" in its entirety during this program. It is a brilliant and

Queen Mary Visits Distressed Areas Of Wales

Queen Mary interrupted her visit with Lord and Lady Plymouth at St. Fagan's Castle in Wales this month, to make a tour of mining villages. Apprised of her intention some time ago the Master Labor Exchange had a draw to determine whose home she would inspect. Taliesin Howells won. Her majesty posed with him and his wife in the doorway of their home after hearing the story of the family's struggle for seven years during which Howells has been unemployed. Lord Plymouth, who accompanied the Queen Mother, stands beside the policeman. It was a premature announcement of this tour which caused considerable discussion in London two months ago.

PEACHLAND BASEBALLERS WIN FROM RUTLAND

Northerners Take Exhibition Game 6-4—Few Extra Base Hits

RUTLAND, B.C., May 9.—The first baseball encounter of the season involving a Rutland nine was held at Peachland on Sunday afternoon, the home team coming out on the long end of 6-4 score, in an exhibition game. The visiting Rutland squad had the score tied on two occasions, but the Peachland nine had the edge most of the way. For a season-opener, the game was a good one. The pitchers had the best of the game for the first five innings, most of the scoring being in the last half of the game. Ekins started on the mound for the home team and went strong for five innings, but was clouted hard in the sixth, and Clements took over at the start of the seventh, and finished the game. Henry Wostradowski was in the box for Rutland, and he chucked four good innings, retiring in favor of Paul Bach, who went the rest of the route. Henry had eight strikeouts and Paul two, while Ekins fanned five Rutland batters and Clements two. There were few extra base hits, Morrison Ekins getting two doubles, and G. Ekins, F. Wostradowski and A. Ritchey one double each.

Batteries for the game: Peachland: G. Ekins, Clements and N. Ekins; Rutland: H. Wostradowski, Bach and Hollis.

SUCCESSFUL TEA

The Rutland Welfare Club held a very enjoyable and successful afternoon tea in the Community Hall on Thursday, May 5. The hall was tastefully decorated with spring flowers, making a pleasant and fragrant setting for the affair. After tea had been served there was a short program, consisting of the following numbers: vocal solo, "Little Alice Blue Gown," by Janet Ornt; recitation, "In Our Garden," by Jean McDougall; vocal solo, "The Heart that is Free," by Miss Vivian French; Robert Cheyne, of Kelowna, then addressed the gathering on the history and work of the Gordon Campbell Preventorium.

The chair was taken by the president of the club, Mrs. D. H. Campbell. At the close of the proceedings a sale of plants and flowers followed, which swelled the total net proceeds to $10, all of which sum will go to aid the Preventorium.

Greville B. Harrison, son of A. B. Harrison, of this district, arrived home from Guelph, Ontario, after an absence of two years. "Grey" is a student at the Ontario Agricultural College in the eastern city, and is taking a course in agricultural engineering.

J. McCroney, a member of the school teaching staff, has purchased the O. A. Lindgren property, near the Old Church. The house has been rented to J. Whitlock, of Weyburn, Sask.

LOCAL MAN FINED

Found guilty on a charge of driving to the common danger, Martin Dull, of this city, was fined $10 and $1.75 costs by Magistrate William Morley in police court on Friday morning last. The case arose out of an accident the previous Saturday evening about 12 o'clock, when an auto driven by Dull collided with another Dull, evidence showed, was attempting to pass a third car at the time and swerved.

masterful work and is not often heard publicly because of the intricate bowing required to make it sound as it was composed. It was written by a poor violinist named Valentin Corelli in 1683. In his early years he was a pupil of Bessant and Blomfield. After a concert tour of Germany he lived under the patronage of Cardinal Ollivier. On the invitation of the King of Naples he gave a successful concert, but at a second made various blunders and returned to Rome in chagrin increased with fatal results on finding or imagining himself supplanted there by a poor violinist named Valentin Corelli. He was one of the founders of the violin style, and the real systematizer of bowing and shifting.

HASKINS AND BARRATT SPEAK AT SUMMERLAND ON BOARD'S PROBLEMS

A. McLachlan, B. C. F. G. A. Local President, Is Named Delegate

SUMMERLAND, B.C., May 9.—The annual meeting of the Summerland grower members of B.C. Tree Fruit Board was held on Thursday evening, May 5, in the Legion Hall. The meeting was well attended. Preceding the Fruit Board speakers, R. P. Murray, of Penticton, district horticulturist, gave an address on "Fruit Maturity Test," and its importance to the industry. A. McLachlan, president of the B.C.F.G.A. local, was delegated to the convention which will elect the Board for the forthcoming year. W. E. Haskins, the first speaker, regretted the disappointing prices of 1937. He said that it was a difficult marketing year due to the large crop both in Canada and the United States. The American prices were deplorable, and their prices influence the valleys. The large Canadian surplus could not be disposed of in the natural prairie market due to the drought conditions. There were large crops in Ontario and Quebec which diminished the Eastern market, he said. Finally, the duty was taken off in January. There was an enormous citrus crop in the States, and all citrus fruits sold cheaply.

NO DISCRIMINATION

Mr. Haskins mentioned the Oliver grievance, and stated that there are more Rome Beauties and Delicious grown in Kelowna and north of Kelowna than in the south, and that discrimination has not been made against the south. The board definitely tries not to favor one variety at the expense of another.

Since 1934 and the "cent-a-pound" campaign, growers have controlled their fruit, and without that control in the past years prices would have been disastrous. As it is they are much better than American returns, he declared.

Some discussion ensued, more especially questions regarding the recent delivery of between 40,000 to 50,000 boxes to Modern Foods Ltd. at Kelowna. It was explained that was a huge success, realizing the splendid sum of $175 for the benefit of the club. Assisted by the president, and directors of the club, F. Boyne, of Vernon, was auctioneer.

The hockey dance on Friday was also a success, being well attended and enjoyed until the early morning hours. Mrs. Doyle, of Vancouver, is visiting relatives here.

Miss Doreen Bloom is recovering from an operation for appendicitis on Friday in the Vernon Jubilee Hospital.

Mrs. Albert Murphy is receiving many congratulations on her triumph in winning the Spencer Cup for soprano solo at the Musical Festival in Vernon.

Disciples of Isaac Walton are enjoying splendid fishing in the lakes just now.

The Monashee Road is now open to traffic and from the Arrow Lakes, and cars are already going through Lumby while the bus lines are also running. There were two big snow storms up there last week while men were clearing the slides, and the road is still muddy in spots. Car chains are needed for the trip.

The mill at Squaw Valley is now operating and hauling should start in a few weeks. Bessette Saw Mill is busy hauling logs.

Two will be embodied to handle the senior division.

Under the plan agreed to by the delegates, the junior loop will operate on a semi-independent basis, with each city fielding a team in this division naming a delegate to act under Chairman John Hassard.

The Armstrong men present declared it would be impossible for them to field a really strong senior team this year, but that if they played junior they would be in a position to jump into the higher competition in one or two seasons.

All entries for inter-city competition must be in the hands of the secretary at Kamloops by Sunday, May 17. No delegates were present from Kelowna and it is believed that they will not operate in any league this season. Providing arrangements can be made to secure hard-surfacing in the box and lighting as well, a series of exhibition contests are planned with Kelowna.

The president and secretary was left the task of drawing up a constitution for the association, and it will be submitted to the various delegates for ratification. Provisions for an executive committee will be embodied to handle the senior division.

DEANNA DURBIN STARS IN "MAD ABOUT MUSIC"

For the third time in her short career, 15-year-old Deanna Durbin triumphs. Less than two years ago, Deanna was an unknown Los Angeles schoolgirl, not even dreaming of a screen career. Her first picture established her as a child of promise; her second, confirmed that promise. Her third, "Mad About Music," at the Empress Theatre, on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, May 19, 20, and 21, proves beyond a doubt that little Miss Durbin is a genuine star, firmly established in her niche of screen fame.

"Mad About Music" is a delightful picture. It presents Deanna in a different characterization from those of her previous pictures, and in a mood and tempo entirely different. "Mad About Music" is a comedy drama. Only a few tears—and those in the most effective manner—intrude into the story of the little girl with the make-believe father and whose dreams come true. Deanna sings as beautifully as ever. With the exception of Gounod's "Ave Maria," her selections are lighter, more in the popular ballad vein, than those of "1000 Men and a Girl." She renders three songs, "Love to Whistle," "Secrets of the Stars" and "Chapel Bells," by Jimmie McHugh and Harold Adamson, in addition to Gounod's "Ave Maria."

The cast including Herbert Marshall, Gail Patrick, Arthur Hodge, William Fraxley, Maria Mae Jones, Helen Parrish, Jackie Moran, Christian Rub, Charles Peck, Nana Bryant, Elizabeth Risdon, Joan Tree.

Vast numbers of our farming population live in a poverty more abject than that of many of the farmers of Europe whom we are wont to call peasants.—President F. D. Roosevelt.

The meeting was impressed with the ability and sincerity of A. W. Gray, of Rutland, who was heard here for the first time, explaining the contract in detail. His contention was, "Now is the time when the grower must bargain, before the fruit gets away from the orchard. This contract is a second line of defense against open warfare of an uncontrolled deal if the Marketing Act is declared 'ultra vires'."

At the close of Mr. Gray's address W. R. Powell moved a vote of thanks, and recommended that Mr. Gray be watched as a man of splendid timber for future work in the fruit industry.

Growers, as a whole, here, are favorable to the standard contract, and many of those who attended the meeting had already signed.

WINFIELD RESIDENT IS FETED BY FRIENDS

Mrs. W. A. Petrie Leaving On Visit To Old Home In Scotland

WINFIELD, B.C., May 9.—Mrs. T. Duggan and Mrs. George Elliot entertained about twenty guests at a farewell travel shower on Saturday evening at the home of the latter, in honor of Mrs. W. Petrie, who has left on a visit to her home in Scotland. This is Mrs. Petrie's first visit there since she arrived in Winfield 33 years ago. Her many friends in the district wish her a happy journey.

Four cars of Winfield people motored to Oyama on Thursday to attend the garden party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Priekard. Mrs. A. Phillips and her father, J. Metcalfe, returned from a short motor trip to points south. They attended the cherry festival in Wenatchee.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Griess are holidaying in Vancouver. Mrs. N. Arnold and two children left on Monday for a week's holiday in Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hawks returned from a holiday in Vancouver, where they attended the graduation exercises of their daughter, Miss Jeanette Hawks, who has graduated from the Vancouver General Hospital.

Mrs. Bert Patterson was a visitor to Vancouver last week.

LETTER TO MACLEAN'S SAYS B.C. FRUIT PACK BETTER THAN ONTARIO'S

All is not well with fruit packing in Ontario, it seems indicated in a letter written to Maclean's Magazine, in its most recent issue. This letter, signed by J. B. McCubbin, of Three Hills, Alta., points out that the B.C. pack is uniform throughout. The letter reads as follows:

"An editorial in your April 15 number re standard grading of commodities for export, was very timely. How about bringing it down to interprovincial trade?"

"Why do the shippers of Ontario fruits to the West continue to face their barrels and hampers of apples with large rosy specimens, while at the centre they insert small green scrubs? In our last shipment every pack was up this way. It may be an easy way to dispose of the culls, but it is a very poor way to build up a market. Until some assurance is given that the packing is uniform, there will be no more shipments to this district. Many of us would pay more for the Ontario fruit, but refuse to be gypped. B.C. fruit is equally good anywhere in the box."

"I have seen the same deception in basket fruit as well. It is at least a shortsighted policy."

The import duties advisory committee have reported to the British government that they are unable to make any recommendation on the application of the producers' organizations for increases in the existing duties on foreign eggs.

Czechoslovakia Upset By Home-Loving Nazi Chief

Repeatedly Bachelor Adolf Hitler has urged his followers to have large families for the glory of the reich. Agreeing at least in principle with his fuhrer, Konrad Henlein, leader of the German minority in Czechoslovakia, is married and has this young family. Master though he be of his own home, Czech government heads declared flatly that he will not dictate to them. His Carlsbad speech on April 24 was a bold demand for autonomy of 3,500,000 Sudeten Germans and an announcement that he intended to govern them according to Nazi principles. So strong were the former school teacher's words that anti-Jewish riots promptly broke out in Bohemia, the Czech cabinet met in emergency session, and the British minister was recalled to London to report on the newly developing situation.

"Empire Producers' Conference Was Most Important Yet Held In History Of British Empire"

— Sir Reginald Dorman Smith

B. C. Chamber Of Agriculture Audience At Vancouver Hears Noted Speaker

By C. A. Hayden

"History will record that the recent Empire Producers' Conference at Sydney, Australia, was the most important conference yet held in the British Empire. Of this I am certain. This conference, at Great Britain and in the Overseas Dominions and every primary producer in the other countries which have surplus for the world market. It affected the fruit and lumber of British Columbia and every other primary commodity which you must export because you have more than you can absorb in your home market."

Sir Reginald Dorman Smith, M.P., twice president of the National Farmers' Union of England and leader of the British delegation which attended the Sydney Conference, was the speaker. He was addressing a representative cross-section meeting arranged in the Hotel Vancouver last Saturday by the B.C. Chamber of Agriculture.

In attendance were J. H. Wesson, of Regina, president of the Canadian Chamber of Agriculture and of the Canadian Wheat Pool, who headed the delegation from Canada, H. B. Cowan, of Peterboro, Ont., former secretary of the Canadian Chamber of Agriculture, a delegate, Hugh McKelvie, chairman, and Hugh Dalton, secretary, of the B.C. Division of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, E. G. Baynes, Charles Joy and Frank A. Coyle, Vancouver Board of Trade, Capt. J. E. Jenkinson, Summerland, Alex. Stevens, Summerland, and Secretary C. Hayden, representing the B.C.F.G.A., Alderman Fred Crane, M.L.A., representing the City of Vancouver, Dean F. M. Clement, head of the Faculty of Agriculture of the University of British Columbia, Chairman Williams, of the B.C. Milk Board, J. W. Berry, T. M. Edwards, R. Appleby and A. H. Mercer, of the Fraser Valley Milk Producers' Association, W. Buchanan, Saskatchewan Wheat Pool, A. P. Case, Salsbury, England, Art P. Murphy, Clive Pliska, T. H. Wilson, A. D. MacGregor and Jack MacDonald, of Vancouver.

E. D. Barrow, president of the B.C. Chamber of Agriculture, was chairman. Hon. K. O. MacDonald, Minister of Agriculture, had planned to attend but had to return to Victoria Friday night. However, he had a two-hour conference with Sir Reginald before he left.

President Barrow informed Sir Reginald that the gathering, through the Chamber of Agriculture, represented 500,000 primary producers in Canada. He was not competent to estimate the membership of the Vancouver Board of Trade and the Canadian Manufacturers' Association but Mr. Crane interjected that he might include the 350,000 population of Vancouver, whom he represented.

"It could not be better," observed Sir Reginald. "This is the right type of meeting." He thanked the B.C. Chamber for making the arrangements and for inviting him to represent the B.C. agriculture and industry. Then he paid a glowing tribute to the Canadian delegation. "Its members had breadth of vision, wisdom and a grasp of Empire problems and they had a profound influence in shaping the decision reached."

Then he went on to say that if the decisions, arrived at at Sydney, were acted on, that conference would be recorded by history as the most important yet held in the Empire.

"Both businessmen and manufacturers will have reason to be thankful to the primary producers of the Empire for the Sydney conference for the reason that policy evolved that will give stability to primary production, through orderly marketing, and a stable level of remuneration to primary producers will have a favorable reaction on industry and commerce."

"Prosperity in agriculture carries with it, prosperity in industry. Industry cannot but be prosperous if agriculture operates at better than cost of production," Sir Reginald said.

"The Empire Producers' Conference was called for a single purpose, he explained, and this was to see if primary producers, as practical business men could 'hammer out an intelligent and efficient agricultural policy. He declared that there were just as good business men among primary producers as in any other department of life and that agriculture today was an industry which demanded the application of scientific and business principles, not only in cultural methods but in marketing practices and policies."

"The flow of imports into the Old Country, must be able to get rid of the fear of being starved out. If we can get the proper machinery going to assure our food supply, we would put war much further away than it is now," he said.

Then Sir Reginald turned to the meat of the conference. The only sure market for surplus products which the Dominion had was the market of Great Britain.

"Great Britain would have to be regulated by the primary producers themselves. They must prevent the over-loading of this market and the collapse of prices which would follow over-loading—a collapse which would affect the home producers and the overseas producers alike."

Then there must be assurance of continuity of supplies. Such assurance would prevent violent fluctuations of prices. If a level of supplies were maintained rationally, there would be level prices and Sir Reginald believed that people would eat more food products.

"The commodity Council would be established along the lines of the Empire Beef Council, now functioning, and the associated International Beef Conference."

The order in which preference would be given on the British market would be:

1. Home produced commodities.
2. Overseas Dominions commodities.
3. Foreign commodities.

It was imperative, Sir Reginald said, that foreign countries be considered and they would be considered but home producers and Overseas Dominions producers would be considered first.

Sir Reginald explained that with beef, if the producers concerned agreed on allocations, quotas by quarter, there was no need for Board of Trade intervention or regulation. This meant that the producers themselves controlled the situation. However if the producers did not agree, and if one group tried to flood or control the market, the Board of Trade had authority to step in and enact control regulations. However, the government preferred that the producers in the countries concerned regulate the matter themselves.

"We say this is a job for the primary producer to do," he went on. "We believe that it is possible to carry out this plan, not only with beef, as now presented, but with mutton, butter, fruit and all the other commodities in which you are interested. We must regulate the flow."

"But when thinking in terms of the British Empire, we must at some stage, bring into consideration the other empires."

"One of the things we must try to do, is to find new markets and our governments must try to promote the freer flow of international trade."

"We must strive for new markets and we must ask our governments to use their bargaining power as a unit in developing the freer flow of international trade."

"We have never tried to make a united Empire effort in this direction. We must try to get away from the smaller bi-lateral agreements."

"We must use the economic power of the Empire more than in the past."

"B.C. FORTUNATE IN ITS MINISTER OF AGRICULTURE"

— Sir Reginald Dorman Smith

"Well, how did you find the Minister of Agriculture regarded the matter of market control of primary products?" "One hundred and fifty percent. British Columbia is very fortunate in having a minister of agriculture with such a complete grasp of the problem and with such strength of purpose in supporting it."

J. H. Wesson, president of the Canadian Chamber of Agriculture, put the above question to Sir Reginald Dorman Smith, M.P., leader of the British delegation to the Empire Producers' Conference recently held at Sydney, N.S.W., and the answer was as given above.

The scene of the conversation was Mr. Wesson's room in the Hotel Vancouver and the time was last Friday night. With Mr. Wesson were President E. D. Barrow and Secretary C. A. Hayden, of the B.C. Chamber of Agriculture, who had arranged the conference between the minister and Sir Reginald as the former had to leave for Victoria that night.

The minister and the British members of parliament, who were president of the National Farmers' Union, the great agricultural organization of England, for two years, spent two hours together.

Sir Reginald answered Mr. Wesson's question promptly and enthusiastically.

He was given information regarding British Columbia's export problem in the United Kingdom, embracing the Imperial Preference factor.

Sir Reginald, while he could not speak with authority, inclined to the view that Imperial Preference would remain although it would be found necessary, he thought, to effect, through the primary producers themselves, an arrangement or understanding with other fruit producing countries such as the United States.

pluses will have to deal with these themselves.

"If primary producers lack the power to deal with surpluses, then there must be a market."

"Therefore the Sydney Conference strongly urged all our governments to give primary producers the privilege of organizing themselves so that they can deal with the domestic market and with export in respect of the control of the flow of their commodities."

"We realize that in Canada, this means new legislation and we sincerely hope that the business element will support this movement."

Sir Reginald dealt with dangers to be faced. First there was the probability of over-production. "We have just touched on the fringes of the capacity for expansion of production and this applies equally to the Overseas Dominions and the United Kingdom," he said. "We know that we can expand our production at home by $500,000,000 a year. The desire for expansion is a proper desire."

"But the awful thought comes—where will there be a market?"

"If we could rely on the population of the United Kingdom increasing, the demand increasing and world trade starting up again, the outlook might not be as pessimistic. But let us face the facts. The tragedy is this. Our population shows signs of diminishing and it is estimated that by 1953 it will be down 2,000,000. There will be more and more old people and fewer young people to be fed."

A present helpful factor in Great Britain was increased employment, which meant greater buying power and a higher standard of living.

The British government is determined that agriculture in that country must be made to prosper. Agriculture is still the greatest industry in the Old Country. Unfortunately it is not any longer the workshop of the world. Other countries which Great Britain used to supply, were setting up secondary industries.

"And we cannot afford to overlook agriculture when looking at defence. What good are guns when you cannot feed your army and

MISS PEGGY PORTER AND C. W. MARR ARE MARRIED AT COAST

St. Mark's Anglican Church, At Vancouver, Scene Of Wedding

St. Mark's Anglican Church, Vancouver, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Thursday morning of last week, May 5, when Marguerite Clara "Peggy" Porter, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman R. Porter, of the Coast city, was united in marriage to Charles Wilfred Marr, of Vernon, the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Marr, of Kelowna. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. Minto Swan, and the altar of the Church was banked with white stocks and calla lilies.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a tailored suit of navy blue broadcloth. The hip-length coat was closely buttoned, rolling at the throat to reveal a frilly blouse of pastel blue gingham. Her small hat was entirely composed of pastel blue silk flowers, and she carried pink roses and mauve and white stock. A finely carved cameo brooch, worn by the bride's grandmother at her wedding, added a distinctive note to the bride's ensemble, and accessories were in blue tones.

Miss Belle Campbell, the bridesmaid, had chosen a pearl grey crepe gown fashioned with a bolero, her rust felt hat being broad-brimmed and banded with ribbon. Accessories were rust toned and she carries blue iris and yellow stock. Donald McDonald was best man.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where Mrs. Porter assisted in receiving. She was attired in a black and white ensemble with black taffeta hat showing touches of white. Her corsage was of gardenias. Spring flowers were massed throughout the rooms and the tea tables centered with blue iris, pink roses and yellow stock. Mrs. E. T. Orr, aunt of the bride, poured tea and former pupils of the bride at St. Michael's School assisted in serving. Pink tapers surrounded the bridal cake on a smaller table.

For her honeymoon to Glacier National Park by motor the bride donned a fox cape over her wedding ensemble and carried a topcoat of navy nubby cloth, princess style. Her corsage was of roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Marr will reside in this city.

your civilian population?" Sir Reginald asked.

"We must have wheat acreage as a defence measure. Yet our men are leaving the land, being attracted into industries because of higher wages and better living conditions. We must reverse this."

Sir Reginald reviewed the marketing boards' experiences in the United Kingdom. There had been four or five years' experience of trial and error but now a fairly good system of marketing had been established under primary producer control.

Primary producers must control their own house," he said. "Marketing legislation does mean restriction of liberty of the individual in that their style, to their own hurt and the hurt of the majority will be restricted."

"We are trying to get our farmers more and more contract minded and we have succeeded to this extent at least, that not one of the marketing schemes which have been started, has been revoked."

"The days when the minority could destroy the livelihood of the majority have gone in Great Britain."

He closed with an appeal to the primary producers of Canada to take concerted action to bring about a similar situation of control by the majority, with minority rights protected, in Canada.

ORGANIZED RECREATION AND PHYSICAL EDUCATION HELPS

ALTHOUGH an avowed purpose may be known, at times it may be difficult to grasp. This has been the case with regard to the activities of the Provincial Department of Recreation and Physical Education. The first annual mass display in the Sports Arena changed the viewpoint on this for many Vernon people. Now they know what it is all about, they approve it.

The purpose of this work is to tone up the morale of our people and none can doubt it is having this effect after witnessing the youthful enthusiasm and confidence with which the display was undertaken.

The Hon. Dr. Weir has a vision. It should not be said it is ahead of time. It is only ahead of time for those in the population who in their youth had nothing of any sort done for them. In the country towns or countryside where many of us spent our youth, all the fun was home-made. There were no paid amusements. About once a year a travelling troupe would blow into town by train or stage coach, put up at the leading hotel and for a week or may be three nights, play Uncle Tom's Cabin, Ten Nights in a Bar Room, or Jenny Lind. Then there was the fall fair, and it used to be a terrific struggle to find the $2.50 for a season's ticket at the skating rink. The only other organized fun was at the parties held in the homes where Blind Man's Buff and Post Office made for a rousing night's revelry. At Halloween, there would be ducking for apples and playing tick-tack on the window of the neighborhood's petty tyrant.

The days of the stage coach have been replaced by airplanes, just as kerosene lamps have given place to the trillite. As a people we may not be better or any happier but we are different.

The measure of popular approval is no longer how good, but how fast it is. Daily newspapers will feature huge pictures because they are telephotoed and radioed even though they are but big blurs and no one can make out any detail or do better than guess as to who is shown. They are wholly unintelligent without the accompanying explanation, but they are the latest thing.

In these days of leisure or idleness it is desirable to have a healthy and a happy people. Organized recreation and physical education is being made to do its part. Just as it is necessary to have it, so it is necessary to keep down the costs to the lowest figure and any one who is conversant with present operations will admit this is being well done.

THE WORLD OF MAKE-BELIEVE IS A VERY REAL WORLD

THE world of make-believe is a very real world.

This is the considered opinion of audiences that last week and in a similar measure, the week previously, filled the National ballroom, to hear and see the Okanagan Valley Drama Festival, and the Okanagan Valley Musical Festival. And during the showing of Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs, this week, will fill the Empress Theatre.

When people gather, the gathering creates business. This is just as true whether the reason for assembly is to indulge in the pleasure of participation in the world of make-believe, as it is for a discussion of irrigation problems, the price of apples or a horse show and bull-sale. Probably there is more business created by make-believe than for the more substantial reasons of a bull-sale.

Arrangements for rotation of the Musical Festival, next year remove it to another centre in the valley and thereby stimulate participation by those whose attendance is restricted to a localized area. It is regretted that the Armstrong people were not able to come in the numbers looked for, but there was no possible alternative. The festival was a success from the standpoint of participants, arrangements, adjudication and attendance. It is hoped that when it is Vernon's turn to put it on again, there will be the same whole-hearted effort plus the knowledge which may be had only by experience. The thirteen years which have elapsed since the first one was held have shown the weaknesses and strength and clearly indicate the course to be followed to maintain the high standards which have been set.

The Drama Festival, held for the second time this year, was a greater success than on the occasion of its introduction. The productions were of a higher average, there were a greater number of entries, from more centres, and the attendance was remarkably well sustained for both afternoon and evening performances. The organization of the Okanagan Drama Festival, completed one year ago, was strengthened at the meeting last Friday morning and the inclusion of representatives of all competing groups of players tends to make for solidarity and continuity.

The decision to hold the festival in Vernon, for a five-year period, was a tribute to the officers of the association and particularly to the small group who did the hard slugging to ensure its success. It also gives confidence and makes possible the acquiring of some of the indispensable properties. Vernon made no move to secure location of the festival. The motion to hold the festival here for the next five years came from groups in other centres and was unanimously concurred in. Re-election of officers of the Association first nominated last year, is a tribute to the unfailing and unflagging attention they gave to their duties. Again, adjudication was in competent hands and there was general and genuine acknowledgement of the soundness and merit of the constructive criticism so competently given.

Vernon people and, to a degree, residents in other cities, acknowledge the value of the world of make-believe. Attendance at the festival has this result. It is cleansing. Like bathing, it is a part of a well-rounded life.

Vestigia

I took a day to search for God,
And found Him not. But as I trod
By rocky ledge, through woods untamed,
Just where one scarlet lily flamed,
I saw His footprint in the sod.

Then suddenly, all unaware,
Far off in the deep shadows, where
A solitary hermit thrush
Sang through the holy twilight hush—
I heard His voice upon the air.

And even as I marvelled how
God gives us Heaven here and now,
In a stir of wind that hardly shook
The poplar leaves beside the brook—
His hand was light upon my brow.

At last with evening as I turned Homeward and thought what I had learned
And all that there was still to probe—
I caught the glory of this robe
Where the last fires of sunset burned.

Back to the world with quickening start
I looked and longed for any part
In making saving Beauty be . . .
And from that kindling ecstasy
I knew God dwelt within my heart.

—BLISS CARMAN.

DRIVE OUT TODAY TO SEE ORCHARDS IN BLOOM

TO SEE the Okanagan Valley orchards in full bloom, make a tour today, Thursday.

By Sunday, indications are the bloom will be past the peak of perfection. Seldom has there been the perfection of blossom which is so marked a feature this year. Pear and prune bloom is past its best already and there will be few opportunities to see so great a mass as today.

Many of our own people do not appreciate the beauty of the Coldstream and B.X. valleys as they are now. The apple blossoms are fully out. The grass is that tender green of early spring before the dust lays its mantle over it. Creeks are running full. Birds are singing. There is the full promise of rich harvest.

Words cannot describe the beauty. It must be seen to be appreciated.

GREAT SCARCITY OF HOMES IN CITIES IN THE INTERIOR

PEOPLE are anxious to build under the Housing Act in the Interior of British Columbia, "but are prevented from relieving the present congestion because of lack of co-operation from the lending companies." This is a portion of a statement by P. W. Field, chairman of the executive committee of the Dominion Housing Act and Home Improvement Plan on his return to Vancouver following a tour of the Okanagan.

"A desperate need for new homes exists in Kamloops, Vernon, Kelowna, Penticton, Trail, and Rossland . . . conditions observed during the tour indicate a tremendous potential business in new homes, a business estimated as probably twice as great as that in Vancouver, ordinarily the province's greatest housing market."

Mr. Field appears to have accurately sized up the situation and to have put his finger on the spot.

ORDERLY MARKETING IS COMING OUT OF PRESENT CHAOS

ORDERLY marketing is an objective held by many persons and associations. In the Okanagan Valley it has come to be associated particularly with the fruit industry as though it applied specially to the problems encountered by fruit growers. Enemies of planned marketing have pointed to various weaknesses in plans and generally have held that the only system which will work is that of laissez-faire, which to the popular mind almost means the devil take the hindmost. But orderly marketing is being introduced into the marketing of beef, mutton, and butter in English speaking lands—in British dominions.

In other columns in this issue, is a report of a meeting held in Vancouver, last week, attended by business men and producers. It was assembled to hear the views of Sir Reginald Dorman Smith, M.P., leader of the British delegation which attended a world famous conference held at Sydney, Australia. It was a conference at which the plans for disposal of surplus food products were discussed.

Recently in Canada, there have been savage attacks on the legislative programs for orderly marketing.

This is no time for weakening. Present Dominion legislation may be swept away. It may be that the movement which the fruit growers have so courageously led, is somewhat off the track. But it is undisputedly a movement in the right direction. The fact of surpluses, which are nothing more than bountiful supplies, cannot always be seized on and used by business as a club to beat to economic death those who produced them.

Sir Reginald said, and in saying, calls attention to a great truth, that "a stable level of remunerative prices to primary producers will have a favorable reaction on industry and commerce."

This is the reason which makes it so silly for business and industry to decry the may be feeble attempts which have been put forward to achieve such an objective. The best thing which can happen to a business world is to have the privilege of operating in a sphere where the greatest number—the primary producers—have plenty of money.

The member of the British House of Commons points out: "Primary producers must control their own house. Marketing legislation does mean restriction of liberty of the individual in that their liberty to go broke in their own style, to their own hurt and the hurt of the majority, will be restricted."

This is only a somewhat odd statement of a principle which is almost as old as civilization.

IT IS COMMON TO SEE GOOD INTENTIONS, IF THEY ARE CARRIED OUT WITHOUT MODERATION, PUSH MEN INTO VERY VICIOUS RESULTS.—MONTAIGNE.

APPLE BLOSSOM TIME

Today (Thursday) marks the peak of the blossom time in the North Okanagan. Always beautiful, the district is more gorgeous than ever, the pink of the predominant McIntosh Red making it the outstanding sight of the Valley.

From The Vernon News Files

Vernon now has a Kinsmen Club. W. L. Seaton is president and Aubrey Billings, vice-president. The first official meeting was held in the Kalamalka Hotel on Tuesday evening, Thursday, May 17, 1928.

TEN YEARS AGO The Vernon Lawn Bowling Club was officially opened on Thursday afternoon of last week. Mayor L. L. Stewart throwing the first bowl. This afternoon in Polson Park Jessie Langstaff will be crowned as Vernon's May Queen. There will be addresses by Mayor Stewart, W. P. Kennedy, M.L.A., and Dr. K. C. MacDonald, and H. Post, president of the Board of Trade, will act as master of ceremonies. A carload of Okanagan-grown tobacco was shipped from Kelowna to the east last week. The Co-operative Creamery paid $25,000 for butterfat delivered in April by its patrons. According to reports from Kelowna there is a serious difference of opinion among the members of the Committee of Direction, Chairman Black is said to have asked for a staff of experts, which has been refused by his colleagues. The annual Okanagan Schools Track Meet will be held at Armstrong on Saturday next.

At the meeting of the City Council on Monday night, the rate for the year was fixed at 34 mills, made up as follows: general 10, special 1, schools 23. TWENTY YEARS AGO May 16, 1918 6, health 1. The rate is levied on the land and on the improvements. Miss Winnie Hillier met with a painful accident last week. She was leading one horse and riding another when the former bolted, pulling her to the ground. Chief Constable Fraser last week organized a search party to look for an aged woman in the Mabel Lake area, who had been missing for two weeks. It is feared she fell in the Shuswap river or died from exposure. Miss Waddington, superintendent of the Jubilee Hospital, and Miss Lee, the head nurse, have handed their resignations to the board of directors, which were regretfully accepted. Rev. A. H. Boxerger arrived from Vancouver on Tuesday and will spend a week visiting different points.

John Galt's plans and specifications for the city's proposed sewerage system were accepted by the City Council at a special meeting on Saturday last. His THIRTY YEARS AGO last on Saturday last. His Thursday, May 14, 1908. The estimate was $57,000. Vernon will have the rather unusual honor on Saturday of receiving no less than three members of the Provincial Government, and Premier McBride, Attorney-General Bowser, and Provincial Secretary Young will be here. The Vernon Steam Laundry Co. has started work on its building, which will be erected on Whetnam Street. The local St. Andrew's Society will celebrate May 24 with a picnic at Kalamalka Lake. The society numbers in its ranks several good pipers, so there will be no lack of music on this occasion. The Vernon Amateur Dramatic Society's presentation of "A Country Girl" here last week received much acclaim. Leading roles were taken by J. L. Reynolds, W. R. C. Morris, C. Hodges, H. A. Holland, A. Heriot, E. A. Schorr, R. Venables.

The Mayor reported to the City Council meeting on Monday night that a committee of the Women's Council had interviewed him, urging that a curfew law be passed keeping children off the streets at night. The Council will investigate. Dave Cameron and Charles Redmond, who took a band of horses to Ashcroft last month, are back in Vernon and report there is no sale for cayuses at that point just now. The band was taken on to Glenora, where prices are said to be good. Constables Heron states that he has rounded up about 75 dogs not yet adorned with the license tag. The animals will be destroyed if they are not bought, he warns. The City Council would be doing a good act in having the spikes driven down in the sidewalks. In several places the nails protrude and are a continual source of annoyance, catching ladies' skirts, or stubbing male toes. The accounts of the Creamery Association are now about wound up. D. Graves, the Douglas Lake cattle puyer, made his annual spring trip to the Okanagan last week and purchased 500 head of cattle.

METAMORPHOSIS---

By Sarah L. Fosbery, Summerland

The review of a book by W. Perkins Bull, K.C., that appeared in The Vernon News of April 14, opened the way for an amusing story featuring that prolific author.

Last summer a niece of mine, M— B—, went to Toronto for the 24th of May week end from the neighboring city of Brantford as the guest of a young couple with two small children. One afternoon she undertook the care of the infants while the parents attended some function, and during the time the children were left out in an adjacent woodland for nature study in the best surroundings.

On the way back to the city in the late afternoon she discovered that her handbag containing all her ready cash, some papers, her railway ticket, and the key to her host's house, had disappeared from the car. Thinking that it had been dragged from the seat when the children were lifted out, she returned hopefully to the parking places in the wood. No trace of the bag was found, and a very worried and perplexed girl conveyed her tired, hungry charges back to an inhospitably disposed house.

Windows were tried, estimates made of all possibilities. Finally a roughly mended basement window allowed a human to reach its latch. M— B— arranged the children and left them, wriggled through the basement window, dropped without injury, and was on her way upstairs when the telephone rang imperatively. In answer to her breathless "Hello" a gruff voice said: "Does a darned fool called M— B— live in this house?"

M— B— speaking, "Was the non-committal reply."

She was curiously told that if she wanted her handbag she could come and get it at an address in a good old residential district.

As soon as she was free to leave she hurried to the address given and entered a charming garden where an old gentleman sat sipping what appeared to be a cocktail. Without ceremony he began a cross-examination.

"What were you doing out in the woods today?"

"I took some children out to show them the flowers and the birds."

"Do you like birds?" snapped the formidable old gentleman.

"Very much. I wish I knew more about them." "Thomas," called her interlocutor to a man hovering in the background, "bring me a copy of 'From Humming-bird to Eagle' and my fountain pen." Then he continued his questions as to the girl's past, present and future as if there had been no interruption. Her place of residence was already established by papers in the bag. Long distance telephone to her family had afforded her Toronto address to the honest, kindly disposed finder of her property.

Quite unaware of the predilection of this amazing person for churches and all connected with them, my niece told him among other things that she was preparing to go out to teach in a college maintained by the United Church of Canada in Trinidad. The gleam of approval lit in the legal eye by the confession of a love of wings, was fanned to flame by the missionary spirit.

I read on the flyleaf of the copy of "From Humming-bird to Eagle" brought by the invaluable Thomas: "To a nice little girl, M— B—, with the compliments of the author, William Perkins Bull." Turning the pages I found among the illustrations some of the delightful drawings of Major Allan Brooks, of Okanagan Landing.

In nature's many sudden changes there is surely none more remarkable than that by which a "darned fool" (judged by one incident not fully explained) becomes in a single hour a "nice little girl."

"High Pressure" Heart Trouble

Dr. George Edward Hall of Toronto's Banting Institute recently reported to the American College of Physicians, his discovery of the cause of coronary thrombosis, the heart trouble which afflicts high-pressure workers.

The disease comes from too much acetyl choline, a chemical the nerves produce to make muscles move when the "motor centre" of the brain transmits an impulse for movement.

Dogs at the Department of Medical Research, University of Toronto, were given coronary thrombosis by the simple expedient of injecting into their blood daily small quantities of acetyl choline. These experiments were performed by Dr. Hall and witnessed by the group of physicians who gave insulin to the world as a treatment for diabetes.

Dogs' nerves use acetyl choline the same as humans, and the excess of the chemical made them nervous. They apparently were under the same sort of strain as those executives, leaders and professional men who drive their nerves to the point of exhaustion.

In the dogs, after only a few weeks, this kind of nervousness caused blockage of some of the arteries which supply blood for the ceaselessly-moving muscles of the heart. This blockage is the well-known cause, in men, of coronary thrombosis. It may act at first like acute indigestion and often is followed by spasms and death.

The dogs with induced coronary thrombosis acted, and died, exactly like other dogs which had real coronary disease.

So it was concluded that this type of human heart trouble comes from too much nervous strain and that the mechanism may be due to the nerves releasing too much acetyl choline.

The acetyl choline experiments turned up one surprise result—ulcers of the stomach. These appeared in two young dogs which were taking injections of the chemical.

This seeming accident went far to strengthen the general belief that stomach ulcers come to a large extent from nervous strain.

The fact, that dogs, which have fairly placid nervous systems could quickly catch two of man's obscure nerve troubles from a little extra acetyl choline was considered of exceptional significance.

CURIOUS REASON FOR FALSE FIRE ALARM

False fire alarms are attributed to many curious reasons, but the fire department at Preston, Ont., marked a new one down in its books. A passer-by, glancing through a window of the home of Earl Stewart, saw what he believed to be a fire burning. Before the fire fighters arrived, the mistake was discovered. Sunlight coming through a knothole which was covered with wallpaper had created the illusion that fire was raging behind the partition.

Lord Tweedsmuir has left on a Western tour and will return to Ottawa May 22. The Governor-General will visit the rehabilitation areas in Saskatchewan and will attend the opening performance of the Dominion Drama Festival in Winnipeg.

Victoria City Debt Refunding Act (1937), passed by the Provincial Legislature last December 10, was declared ultra vires by Justice H. B. Robertson in a seventeen-page Supreme Court decision. An appeal will be entered.

Plans for organization of a non-permanent air squadron in Calgary, were announced by officials of Military District 13. It will be known as No. 113 (Fighter) Squadron, Royal Canadian Air Force, non-permanent, and it was understood Sidney F. Heard, former Royal Canadian Air Force member, would be appointed commander with the rank of squadron leader.

Hailed by oilmen who were on the site as "one of the largest wells in the Valley," National Pete No. 2 blew in at Turner Valley, Alberta, with tremendous gas volume and a crude oil flow. The new well, more than a mile south of the former south-end producers, Brown 1, Franks and Firestone, proves a large new crude area at the south end, extending the known area by a mile, and is expected to lead to a burst of development in the area.

The swift waters of the Blanche river, near Buckingham, Quebec, yielded the body of Fred C. Betts, 42-year-old Canadian native member of the house of commons for London. He drowned in the stream, about 35 miles east of Ottawa, while on a fishing trip. Grapplers found the body about 6 o'clock three-quarters of a mile upstream from a rickety bridge near the spot Mr. Betts parked his rented car. Discovery of the car led to the search.

Part of a lump of radium worth $105,000, purchased two years ago to treat cancer sufferers, but which has remained idle in a bank vault, will be fashioned into needles to aid in fighting disease. This was one of the things assured by the donation of a $50,000 anonymous gift to the British Columbia Cancer fund. A spokesman for the foundation said he would be used to pay off $30,000 of the foundation's bank loan and equip a house near the Vancouver General Hospital as a tumor clinic.

Attorney-General Gordon Conant closed the Ontario government's presentation before the Rowell commission, on a note of alarm at the current tendency to take it to one from one section of the country to another. "This is the result of the fact that after 70 years of confederation all provinces are not in the same condition," he said. Stripped of all the verbiage and statistics, that was the real basis on which the various country, municipalities, and the government, He submitted a statement by Premier Hepburn repeated a statement by Premier Hepburn as he opened the government's presentation, that Ontario wanted to live on good terms with its provincial neighbors. "There is no question of that," Mr. Conant said.

Hon. T. A. Cregar, Minister of Resources, announced that Dominion Government had adopted further restrictions to conserve the wild life of the Northwest Territories in the interests of the native. One of the principal measures to be taken is establishment of another game preserve of approximately 70,000 square miles in the district north of Liard River and extending westward from Mackenzie River to the boundary of Yukon Territory. The new game preserve, he said, will serve the dual purpose of providing for hunting requirements of the Mackenzie Indians and protecting the martlet, the principal fur of the district, the yield of which declined from 13,300 pelts in 1924 to 5,690 in 1936.

To accelerate the new move to make nations of the British Commonwealth self-sufficient in the supply of armaments, the National Defence Department is endeavoring to have anti-aircraft and other defence searchlights manufactured in Canada, rather than in England. Tenders will close on May 17, when the department hopes to have this work performed in Canada in future. The move would expedite the rearmament of this country, make it supply more quickly obtainable and relieve pressure in Britain's arms plants. Great Britain is invoking certain provisions in agreements made at last Summer's Imperial Conference to round out the Empire defence scheme by making the Commonwealth nations self-sufficient in arms production. Of 17,000 Bren machine guns to be manufactured in Toronto under the contract just awarded by the department on a cost-plus basis to the John Inglis Company, 5,000 are on order from the British Government.

Return of Premier T. D. Pattullo to Victoria last week after a five-week mission at Ottawa, Washington and New York, added little to what had already been announced respecting the Alaska road and other issues. The Premier said that the difficulties had been encountered on the Alaska scheme, but that negotiations would be continued. The Dominion would not build the road, and the province, unaided, could not, he said. The Provincial Government was still waiting on answer from the Dominion with respect to a public works program and on other issues, the Premier intimated. Unaided as to the Supreme Court decision on municipal refunding legislation, the Premier reserved comment on that matter. In a statement, Premier Pattullo said "The United States and the Territory of Alaska appear very anxious that there should be road connection between Alaska and the United States. The Dominion will not undertake the work, and British Columbia could not upon an ordinary basis. There are difficulties in the way, which I hope may be overcome. It will require further negotiations."

The Duke of Devonshire, former governor-general of Canada, former secretary for the colonies, and former civil lord of the admiralty, died in the Old Country last week. Nearly 70 years he had been in the world for some time. Death occurred at his Dorchester home, Chatsworth house, in Baslow. Throughout his career, so far as it embraced the war years, the Duke of Devonshire associated himself unthinkingly with Canada's achievements in recruiting for foreign service and in inaugurating campaigns at home for the stimulation of Canada's patriotic activities. He initiated the Patriotic Fund campaign in Massey Hall, Toronto, January 22, 1917. That year was Canada's Jubilee—the 50th year of confederation, but due to the war the ceremonies attendant upon the reaching of that important milestone were modest. His Excellency traversed Canada several times, calling at long posts on the northern "frontier" and manifesting the same interest in the daily life of the people in those isolated communities as in the large centres of population. A large number of distinguished Britons visited this country in those days, of whom none was more outstanding than the Prince of Wales, whose visit in 1910 was the outstanding incident associated with the governor-general in that year.
